franco albinì's works of architecture and design produced between 1930 and 1977 have enjoyed a recent revival but to date have received only sporadic scholarly attention from historians and critics of the modern movement a chorus of italian voices has sung his praises none more eloquently than his protégé renzo piano kay bea jones illuminating study of selected works by studio albinì will reintroduce his contributions to one of the most productive periods in italian design albinì emerged from the ideology of rationalism to produce some of italy's most coherent and poetic examples of modern design he collaborated for over 25 years with franca helg and at a time when professional male female partnerships were virtually unknown his museums and installation motifs changed the way italians displayed historic artifacts he composed novel suspension structures for dwellings shops galleries and his signature in pavilions where levity and gravity became symbolic devices for connoting his subjects albinì clarified the vital role of tradition in modern architecture as he experimented with domestic space his cohort defied ciam ideologies to re socialize postwar housing and speculate on ways of reviving italian cities he explored new fabrication technologies from the scale of furniture to wide span steel structures yet he never abandoned the rigors of craft and detail in favor of mass production suspending modernity follows the evolution of albini s most important buildings and projects even as they reveal his apprehensive attitudes about the modern condition jones argues here that albini s masterful use of materials and architectural expression mark an epic paradigm shift in the modern period sebastiano del piombo c 1485 1547 was a close associate and rival of the central artistic figures of the high renaissance notably michelangelo and raphael after the death of raphael and the departure of michelangelo from rome sebastiano became the dominant artistic personality in the city despite being one of most significant artistic figures of the period he remains the last artist of major importance in the western canon about whom no recent work has been published in english in this study piers baker bates approaches sebastiano s career through analysis of the patrons he attracted following his arrival at rome the first half of the book concentrates on sebastiano s network of patrons predominantly italian who had strong factional ties to the imperial camp the second half discusses sebastiano s relationship with his principal spanish patrons sebastiano is a leading example of a transcultural artist in the sixteenth century and his relationship with spain was fundamental to the development of his career the author investigates the domination of sebastiano s career by patrons who had geographically different origins but who were all members of a wider network of imperial loyalties thus baker bates removes sebastiano from the shadow of his contemporaries bringing him to life for the reader as an artistic personality in his own right baker bates characterization of the rome in which sebastiano made his career differs from previous scholarly accounts and he describes how sebastiano was ideally suited to flourish in the environment he depicts sebastiano del piombo and the world of spanish rome thus re appraises not only sebastiano s place in the canon of renaissance art but using him as a lens also the cultural worlds of early modern italy and spain in which he operated
