the first three issues of a short lived academic journal published in 1854 illuminate classics and theology in mid nineteenth century cambridge

Le lotus de la bonne loi 1852 since the late nineteenth century the theosophical society has been a central force in the movement now known as the new age just as the communist party was considered old hat by peace activists in the 60s so the theosophical society was looked upon by many in the spiritual revolution of those years as cranky uninteresting and passé but the society like the party was always there and despite its relatively few members always better organized than anybody else since then the society s influence has certainly not waned it plays an important role in today s global interfaith movement and since the flowering of the new age in the 70s has established increasingly intimate ties with the global elites and its various spinoffs such as elizabeth clare prophet s summit lighthouse and benjamin crème s continuing attempt to lead a world teacher maitreya onto the global stage just as the society tried to do in the last century with krishnamurti continue to send waves through the sea of alternative spiritualities guénon shows how our popular ideas of karma and reincarnation actually owe more to theosophy than to hinduism or buddhism provides a clear picture of the charlatanry that was sometimes a part of the society s modus operandi and gives the early history of the society s bid for political power particularly its role as an agent of british imperialism in india it is fitting that this work should finally appear in english just at this moment when the influence of pseudo esoteric spiritualities on global politics is probably greater than ever before in western history
