The Best War Ever 2015-05-15

the most readable and searingly honest short book ever written on this pivotal conflict was world war ii really such a good war popular memory insists that it was in fact the best war ever after all we knew who the enemy was and we understood what we were fighting for the war was good for the economy it was liberating for women a battle of tanks and airplanes it was a cleaner war than world war i although we did not seek the conflict or so we believed americans nevertheless rallied in support of the war effort and the nation's soldiers all twelve million of them were proud to fight but according to historian michael c c adams our memory of the war era as a golden age is distorted it has left us with a misleading even dangerous legacy one enhanced by the nostalgia tinged retrospectives of stephen e ambrose and tom brokaw disputing many of our common assumptions about the period adams argues in The Best War Ever that our celebratory experience of world war ii is marred by darker and more sordid realities in the book originally published in 1994 adams challenges stereotypes to present a view of world war ii that avoids the simplistic extremes of both glorification and vilification the Best War Ever charts the complex diplomatic problems of the 1930s and reveals the realities of ground combat no moral triumph it was in truth a brutal slog across a blasted landscape adams also exposes the myth that the home front was fully united behind the war effort demonstrating how class race gender and age divisions split americans meanwhile in europe and asia shell shocked soldiers grappled with emotional and physical trauma rigorously enforced segregation and rampant venereal disease in preparing this must read new edition adams has consulted some seventy additional sources on topics as varied as the origins of social security and a national health system the allied strategic bombing campaign and the relationship of traumatic brain injuries to the adjustment problems of veterans the revised book also incorporates substantial developments that have occurred in our understanding of the course and character of the war particularly in terms of the human consequences of fighting in a new chapter the life cycle of a myth adams charts image making about the war from its inception to the present he contrasts it with modern day rhetoric surrounding the war on terror while analyzing the real world consequences that result from distorting the past including the dangerous idea that only through perpetual military conflict can we achieve lasting peace the cause of a war and the object of a war are not necessarily the same the cause of this war was the invasion of luxemburg and belgium we declared war because we were bound by treaty to declare war we have been pledged to protect the integrity of belgium since the kingdom of belgium has existed if the germans had not broken the guarantees they shared with us to respect the neutrality of these little states we should certainly not be at war at the present time the fortified eastern frontier of france could have been held against any attack without any help from us we had no obligations and no interests there we were pledged to france simply to protect her from a naval attack by sea but the germans had already given us an undertaking not to make such an attack it was our belgian treaty and the sudden outrage on luxemburg that precipitated us into this conflict no power in the world would have respected our flag or accepted our national word again if we had not fought so much for the immediate cause of the war but now we come to the object of this war we began to fight because our honour and our pledge obliged us but so soon as we are embarked upon the fighting we have to ask ourselves what is the end at which our fighting aims we cannot simply put the germans back over the belgian border and tell them not to do it again we find ourselves at war with that huge military empire with which we have been doing our best to keep the peace since first it rose upon the ruins of french imperialism in 1871 and war is mortal conflict we have now either to destroy or be destroyed we have not sought this world war i wwi or ww1 also known as the first world war or the great war was a global war centred in europe that began on 28 july 1914 and lasted until 11 november 1918 more than 70 million military personnel including 60 million europeans were mobilised in one of the largest wars in history over 9 million combatants and 7 million civilians died as a result of the war including the victims of a number of genocides a casualty rate exacerbated by the belligerents technological and industrial sophistication and the tactical stalemate caused by trench warfare a grueling form of warfare in which the defender held the advantage it was one of the deadliest conflicts in history and paved the way for major political changes including revolutions in many of the nations involved the war drew in all the world s economic great powers assembled in two opposing alliances the allies based on the triple entente of the united kingdom british empire france and the russian empire versus the central powers of germany and austria hungary although italy was a member of the triple alliance alongside germany and austria hungary it did not join the central powers as austria hungary had taken the offensive against the terms of the alliance these alliances were reorganised and expanded as more nations entered the war italy japan and the united states joined the allies while the ottoman empire and bulgaria joined the central powers the trigger for the war was the assassination of archduke franz ferdinand of austria heir to the throne of austria hungary by yugoslav nationalist gavrilo princip in sarajevo on 28 june 1914 this set off a diplomatic crisis when austria hungary delivered an ultimatum to the kingdom of serbia and entangled international alliances formed over the previous decades were invoked within weeks the major powers were at war and the conflict soon spread around the world on 28 july the austro hungarians declared war on serbia and subsequently invaded as russia mobilised in support of serbia germany invaded neutral belgium and luxembourg before moving towards france leading the united kingdom to declare war on germany after the german march on paris was halted what became known as the western front settled into a battle of attrition with a trench line that would change little until 1917 meanwhile on the eastern front the russian army was successful against the austro hungarians but was stopped in its invasion of east prussia by the germans in november 1914 the ottoman empire joined the central powers opening fronts in the caucasus mesopotamia and the sinai italy joined the allies in 1915 and bulgaria joined the central powers in the same year while romania joined the allies in 1916 followed by united states in 1917 the russian government collapsed in march 1917 and a subsequent revolution in november brought the russians to terms with the central powers via the treaty of brest litovsk which constituted a massive german victory after a stunning german offensive along the western front in the spring of 1918 the allies rallied and drove back the germans in a series of successful offensives on 4 november 1918 the austro hungarian empire agreed to an armistice and germany which had its own trouble with revolutionaries agreed to an armistice on 11 november 1918 ending the war in victory for the allies by the end of the war the german empire russian empire austro hungarian empire and the ottoman empire had ceased to exist national borders were redrawn with several independent nations restored or created and germany s colonies were parceled out among the winners during the paris peace conference of 1919 the big four britain france the united states and italy imposed their terms in a series of treaties the league of nations was formed with the aim of preventing any repetition of such a conflict this however failed with economic depression renewed european nationalism weakened member states and the german feeling of humiliation contributing to the rise of nazism these conditions eventually contributed to world war ii far more than just a military conflict the war on terror has been a struggle over values and meanings a desperate contest for hearts and minds in which language has become its battlefield in this highly original book fred halliday takes us on a tour of this new war zone its artillery and trenches minefields and booby traps drawing on years of painstaking collation halliday shows how the war on terror has brought us not just new words and acronyms such as gitmo and ied and new imports such as jihad and salafi but also new and distinctly sinister ways of using existing language such as extraordinary rendition and enhanced interrogation techniques halliday chronicles the use and development of all the neologisms produced by the war on terror and examines the underlying dynamics driving them he argues that the increased use of everyday words from arabic for example reflects not only increased interest in the arab world but also hostility to it a sense that its reference points are untranslatable in our own culture scanning the pock marked semantic landscape of the post 9 11 world he uncovers hidden twists of phrasing and word associations which in themselves tell a story about the violent clash of ideologies that has marked the opening of the 21st century part indispensable reference part polemic part entertaining snapshot of our times shocked and awed is a bristling arsenal of the 21st century s most potent weapons words bloomsbury publishing
