working to better the world can be exhausting what if there s an alternate strategy which consumes less time and energy and yields greater results that s the definition of a catalyst it works in the lab and it works in real life whether you re slaying the dragon of social inequities breaking down barriers to effective education or cheerleading b corps that share profits with the under resourced there is the formula to get it done faster and smarter in fact it equipped john bost to move the needle in all five sectors public education business politics religion and social activism unconventional yes applicable more than ever master the lever of change know when to push when to back off and how to manage the pushback sharpen your others oriented skills with mindful appreciative inquiry become fluent in the language of cross sector collaboration capture in a few hours what it took Bost 50 years to discover by retracing his steps you'll secure the whys as well as the whats and hows then you will have a few more tools to tackle the mission that you were called to accomplish it works it's waiting it's time about the author John Bost fondly refers to himself as a blind hog in a field of acorns in other words life is so full of opportunities to do what is best for everyone that it doesn't take extraordinary skills it takes heart he learned to be others oriented from his father and grandfather blue collar workers who respected all people long before it was politically correct standing on this core value genuinely caring about the other person Bost has built relationships that have lasted a lifetime in fact he claims relational capital is the most precious asset that I own and I will protect my relationships at all cost it's these hard earned relationships with people in all five sectors that consistently allow Bost to be the catalyst the trusted connector to achieve results only possible with cross sector collaboration his record stands for itself 50 years in five sectors moving the needle public education associate superintendent religion executive pastor business owner politics mayor and social reform activist while most of his learning came from living and giving he did earn his bachelor of science in biology master s in community development and subsequently an ed s in leadership and administration from appalachian state university in 2018 appalachian state university inducted john bost into the rhododendron society in honor of his significant impact as a teacher and a humanitarian like the rhododendron flower bost continues to bloom bost lives with his wife and soulmate ladonna setzer bost in clemmons north carolina about the co author award winning writer patty jo sawvel learned the art of storytelling on her father s knee bypassing the traditional route of college sawvel jumped into the newspaper business in her first year the north carolina press association awarded her work first place for investigative reporting within two years she d collected a second award next sawvel honed her skills as a journalist by writing cover stories on her favorite subjects people and their awe inspiring lives it was then that sawvel found her true fascination writing and publishing biographies her trademark capturing the voice of her client while connecting the reader to the story in a most personal way three of her authored co authored works have received global recognition including her own story under the influence the town that listened to its kids i ve always wanted to know how the real world works john bost to the rescue he pulls back the curtains exposing the inner workings of all five sectors as a result i ve adopted new approaches to old problems resulting in better outcomes john s gems are unconventional authentic and highly relevant the ability of the united states to achieve its national strategic objectives is dependent on the effectiveness of our government in not only employing the instruments of national power but effectively understanding them it is said that if you know your enemies and know yourself you will not be imperiled in a hundred battles if you do not know your enemies but do know yourself you will win one and lose one if you do not know your enemies nor yourself you will be imperiled in every single battle one cannot balance integrate or employ what one does not understand despite an improved understanding of the strategic environment and a consensus that a whole of government approach must be employed to achieve our vital national interests our nation falls short this deficit requires the dod to be prepared to conduct a whole of government approach alone or with limited support from the other government agencies and departments however the dod is currently unprepared untrained and under resourced to effectively implement this approach winner of the community development society's 2014 current research award 21st century philanthropy and community fills a gap in the literature on philanthropic organizations and how they intertwine with community development drawing first on the history of philanthropic funding maria martinez cosio and mirle bussell look at developments in the last twenty years in detail focussing on five key case studies from across america the authors use their own first hand experiences and research to forge a new path for academic research in an area where it has been lacking with the current economic climate forcing shrewd spending foundations need all the guidance they can find on how to appropriately channel their funds in the best way but how can these sorts of community projects be analyzed for effectiveness is there a quantitative rather than qualitative element which can be studied to give real feedback to those investing in projects arguing against a one size fits all model the authors illustrate the importance of context and relationships in the success of these projects

ELL shadowing is a professional development experience that calls upon educators to monitor the educational experiences and opportunities for engagement of an ELL over the course of 3-4 hours either in a single classroom or from class to class. Participants use a protocol to document the speaking, listening, reading, and writing opportunities for ELLs at 5-minute intervals. Over the shadowing period, the shadowing experience provides a method by which qualitative data on an ELL's opportunities for listening, speaking, reading, and writing can be objectively collected. Moreover, it offers self-reflection for educators by which they begin to see how their instructional interactions affect student use of academic language. Most importantly, it has been shown to create a sense of urgency among educators to increase opportunities.

a catalyst is something or someone that provokes significant change a trauma is a catalyst the change whether physical emotional spiritual or all three doesn't happen immediately the change is a journey with side steps and detours along the way the only hard and fast rule is that you can't go back to who you were before this is the story of Carrie Rickert's journey of change after such a catalyst her life threatening accident and related complications started her down this path of examining what was what is and what could be most importantly though this is a story of hope of possibility of embracing the fight to become something new this path has been filled with craters and dips pivots and weird circles and a lot of it has been completely terrible if she had an option she wouldn't go back she wouldn't trade who she is now and who she is going to become join Carrie on this journey of life's ups and downs and let her words her perspective and her humor about it all inspire you to be grateful for the catalysts in your life prayer the catalyst for climate change with the world abuzz on the issue of climate change and its effects on our environment globally this topic has become a part of many if not every conversation and agenda including the sustainable development goals of the united nations however there is much more to climate change than many realize and it is not an issue that began in this century everywhere we look it is becoming increasingly undeniable that climate change is bigger than the human race and deeper than just being about us god created the environment perfectly however it is man s actions decisions choices laws and value systems as well as man s compromised moral standards and level of greed which have brought us all to this point indeed man s actions determine what happens in and to our environment at every level if we are to address climate change in its entirety we need to have the balanced view of both spiritual and natural elements and the creator cannot be excluded from the creation prayer the catalyst for climate change identifies the problems and shows the solutions from a balanced perspective to bring change and to help us all recognize that prayer is the number one catalyst for climate change
