this book examines two important american protestant theologians the archconservative charles hodge 1797 1878 and the archliberal horace bushnell 1802 1876 and their stances on racial slavery hodge with his rigid doctrine of biblical inerrancy and bushnell with his open ended experiential theology represent two poles of thought that continually assert themselves when american protestants speak out on social issues this book provides a case study in the moral implications of each of these enduring polarities and upsets conventional understandings of the relationship of conservative and liberal protestantism to slavery and race the ambivalent attitudes of both men toward slavery and race are significant aspects of both of their enduring intellectual legacies this is the first book length comparison of these two theologians on this subject
