bases if a solution has a lower concentration of hydronium ions than pure water it has a ph higher than 7 a solution with a ph higher than 7 is called a base bases such as baking soda have a bitter taste like strong acids strong bases can harm organisms and damage materials

dna model biology junction

Feb 20 2024

dna contains the genetic information for the reproduction of life its structure is that of a twisted double helix that is composed of long strands of alternating sugars and phosphate groups as well as nitrogenous bases adenine thymine guanine and cytosine

Nov 17 2023

the portion of the cell exposed to the lumen is called its apical surface the rest of the cell i e its sides and base make up the basolateral surface tight junctions seal adjacent epithelial cells in a narrow band just beneath their apical surface they consist of a network of claudins and other proteins dna replication lab biology junction

Oct 16 2023

how the bases are arranged in the dna is what determines the genetic code when the enzyme has passed the end of the dna two identical molecules of dna are left behind each contains one side of the original dna and one side made of new nucleotides strawberry dna biology junction

Sep 15 2023

dna is a double stranded macromolecule composed of nucleotide bases pairing adenine with thymine and guanine with cytosine dna can be extracted from cells by a simple technique with household chemicals enabling students to see strands of dna with the naked eye
