desert raiders the book is especially valuable as it foregrounds the reactions of local populations and their active roles in shaping the trajectory of empire with its emphasis on the experimental nature of imperialism and its attention to cross cultural comparison and social history this book offers a fresh perspective on a fascinating subject organized around central imperial themes which are explored in depth at particular places and times in egypt s history ancient egyptian imperialism covers trade before empire empire before the state c 3500 2686 settler colonialism c 2400 2160 military occupation c 2055 1775 creolization collaboration colonization c 1775 1295 motivation intimidation enticement c 1550 1295 organization and infrastructure c 1458 1295 outwitting the state c 1362 1332 conversions and contractions in egypt s northern empire c 1295 1136 and conversions and contractions in egypt s southern empire c 1550 1069 offers a wider focus of egypt s experimentation with empire than is covered by general egyptologists draws analogies to tactics employed by imperial governments and by dominated peoples in a variety of historically documented empires both old world and new answers questions such as how often and to what degree did imperial blueprints undergo revisions ancient egyptian imperialism is an excellent text for students and scholars of history comparative history and ancient history as well for those interested in political science anthropology and the biblical world this book looks at the way in which the call for justice is portrayed through art and presents a wide range of texts from film to theatre to essays and novels to interrogate the law calls for justice may have their positive connotations but throughout history most have caused annoyance art is very well suited to deal with such annoyance or to provoke it this study shows how art operates as an interface here between two spheres the larger realm of justice and the more specific system of law this interface has a double potential it can make law and justice affirm or productively disturb one another approaching issues of injustice that are felt globally eight chapters focus on original works of art not dealt with before including milo rau s the congo tribunal elfriede jelinek s ulrike maria stuart valeria luiselli s tell me how it ends and nicolas winding refn s only god forgives they demonstrate how through art s interface impasses are addressed new laws are made imaginable the span of systems of laws is explored and the differences in what people consider to be just are brought to light the book considers the improvement of law and justice to be a global struggle and whilst the issues dealt with are culture specific it argues that the logics introduced are applicable everywhere on her school trip to japan dana learns about japanese culture and about herself do your readers know that an elephant can use its trunk to pick up tree branches or that polar bears have the best sense of smell of any animal on earth readers learn all about how animals use their noses to hunt breathe and stay safe the length of days an urban ballad is set mostly in the composite donbas city of z an uncanny foretelling of what this letter has come to symbolize since february 24 2022 when russia launched a full scale invasion of ukraine several embedded narratives attributed to an alcoholic chemist turned massage therapist give insight into the funny ironic or tragic lives of people who remained in the occupied donbas after russia s initial aggression in 2014 with elements of magical realism volodymyr rafeyenko s novel combines a wicked sense of humor with political analysis philosophy poetry and moral interrogation witty references to popular culture ukrainian and european underline the international and transnational aspects of ukrainian literature the novel ends on the hopeful note that even death cannot have the final word the resilient inhabitants of z grow in power through reincarnation in black interdctions philip kretsedemas exposes the antiblack racism latent in the u s government s haitian refugee policies of the 1980s and 1990s which set the tone for the criminalization of migrants and refugees in the new millennium and lead to the migration and refugee policies of the trump era and beyond this type of radical exclusion is singular to the black experience and the black nonblack binary must be factored into an analysis of the us migration regime it is not possible to work together for equity and justice if we are not prepared to grapple with this divisive history and the instinct to avoid dealing with the singularity of the black experience this book will be of interest to scholars of migration and refugee studies black studies legal studies public policy and international relations and many others over recent decades criminological research has changed from a gender blind discipline which equated crime with men and thus ignored questions about gender to an approach that studied gender by showing statistical differences between men and women and then finally to a more inclusive and elaborate gender theoretical approach to crime and crime control however despite this development research on gender and in particular research on gendered norms and the construction and enactment of masculinities within the criminological field has been unable to keep up with developments in gender research since 1990 only a few anthologies with a gender theoretical orientation focusing on masculinities within the criminological research field have been published many of the theoretical developments in gender research still have difficulties in reaching into mainstream criminology partly because such developments are often published in feminist and or gender theoretical journals this volume both problematizes and renders visible conceptions and norms regarding male behaviour and masculinities and shows how these affect the criminological field through providing a theoretically sound and clear gender perspective to this field of research with sections based around the following three themes negotiations of masculinity in institutional settings vulnerable masculinities and risk taking and masculinities this volume will be of interest to scholars of criminology sociology social work and gender studies as well as policy makers and law enforcement professionals one of south africa s most astute social and political observers of his time wrote being black in the world in 1973 at a time of global socio political change and renewed resistance to the brutality of apartheid rule publication of the book was delayed until he had left the country to study at yale university as his publishers feared that the apartheid censorship board and security forces would prohibit him from leaving demografischer wandel fachkräftemangel wechselwillige angestellte der kampf zwischen unternehmen um die klügsten köpfe hat bereits begonnen und wird teilweise erbittert geführt mit diesem buch verschaffen sich unternehmen personalverantwortliche und führungskräfte den entscheidenden vorteil nicholas folger und isabell m welpen weisen nicht nur nach dass sich moderne personalentwicklung positiv auf den unternehmenserfolg auswirkt sondern zeigen zudem anhand von praxistauglichen beispielen unter anderem wie hr abteilungen künstliche intelligenz für zukunftsste personalentwicklung einsetzen digitales recruiting erfolgreich umsetzen und mit employer branding für langfristige mitarbeiterbindung sorgen mit best practices von linkedin deloitte sap merck einhorn und weiteren talentmanagement vorreitem this paper looks into the legislative proposal of papa monats addressed by female minister hartinger klein and portrays the draft law analysis during this process the legal foundations in austria are explained as well as the new eu guidelines furthermore a comparison with other eu countries is made and the current debate in austria is described finally we analysed the hypothesis that an introduction of papa monats wouldn t evoke any change in the participation of fathers if no other policies are installed

Black Interdictions 2022-02-21 in black interdictions philip kretsedemas exposes the antiblack racism latent in the u s government s haitian refugee policies of the 1980s and 1990s which set the tone for the criminalization of migrants and refugees in the new millennium and lead to the migration and refugee policies of the trump era and beyond this type of radical exclusion is singular to the black experience and the black nonblack binary must be factored into an analysis of the us migration regime it is not possible to work together for equity and justice if we are not prepared to grapple with this divisive history and the instinct to avoid dealing with the singularity of the black experience this book will be of interest to scholars of migration and refugee studies black studies legal studies public policy and international relations and many others

Masculinities in the Criminological Field 2016-05-06 over recent decades criminological research has changed from a gender blind discipline which equated crime with men and thus ignored questions about gender to an approach that studied gender by showing statistical differences between men and women and then finally to a more inclusive and elaborate gender theoretical approach to crime and crime control however despite this development research on gender and in particular research on gendered norms and the construction and enactment of masculinities within the criminological field has been unable to keep up with developments in gender research since 1990 only a few anthologies with a gender theoretical orientation focusing on masculinities within the criminological research field have been published many of the theoretical developments in gender research still have difficulties in reaching into mainstream criminology partly because such developments are often published in feminist and or gender theoretical journals this volume both problematizes and renders visible conceptions and norms regarding male behaviour and masculinities and shows how these affect the criminological field through providing a theoretically sound and clear gender perspective to this field of research with sections based around the following three themes negotiations of masculinity in institutional settings vulnerable masculinities and risk taking and masculinities this volume will be of interest to scholars of criminology sociology social work and gender studies as well as policy makers and law enforcement professionals
