acclaimed author of Brave New World first published in 1923 Aldous Huxley's Antic Hay was banned in Australia and burned in Cairo for its frank depiction of bohemian life in the grim and listless aftermath of the Great War. Set in London, the comic novel follows a large cast of artists and intellectuals through their nihilistic yet determined pursuits. At the center of these colorful characters is the peculiar man behind Gumbriel's Patent Small Clothes, while sitting on the hard oak pews of his school's chapel, disenchanted schoolmaster Theodore Gumbriel Junior fantasizes about a pair of trousers with an inflatable air cushion in the seat to make the endless sermon more tolerable. Deciding on a whim to pursue this absurd invention, Gumbriel moves to London and soon finds himself among a circle of cynical poets, would-be artists, and bohemian philosophers. Though a timid romantic, Gumbriel fashions a rakish alter ego for himself, the complete man, as he pursues his fortunes in this scathing satire of British conventionality. The aim of this Frontiers research topic is to assemble a collection of papers from experts in the field of non-invasive brain stimulation that will discuss 1 the strength of the evidence regarding the potential of tDCs to modulate different aspects of cognition, 2 methodological caveats associated with the technique that may account for the variability in the reported findings, and 3 a set of challenges and future directions for the use of tDCs that can determine its potential as a reliable method for cognitive rehabilitation, maintenance, or enhancement.
