hayes leaves resonance cleaving the air npr in these works based on his bagley wright lectures on the poet etheridge knight terrance hayes offers not quite a biography but a compilation as speculative motley and adrift as knight himself personal yet investigative poetic yet scholarly this multi genre collection of writings and drawings enacts one poet s search for another and in doing so constellates a powerful vision of black literature and art in america the future etheridge knight biographer will simultaneously write an autobiography fathers who go missing and fathers who are distant will become the bones of the stories there will be a fable about a giant who grew too tall to be kissed by his father my father must have kissed me when i was boy i can t really say by the time i was eleven or even ten years old i was as tall as him i was six inches taller than him by the time i was fifteen my biography about knight would be about intimacy heartache terrance hayes is the author of how to be drawn which received a 2016 naacp image award for poetry lighthead which won the 2010 national book award for poetry and three other award winning poetry collections he is the poetry editor at the new york times magazine and also teaches at the university y of pittsburgh american sonnets for my past and future assassin will also be forthcoming in 2018

Principles for Effective Pedagogy

the uk teaching and learning research programme tlrp worked for ten years to improve outcomes for learners in schools and other sectors through high quality research one outcome of individual projects and across programme thematic work was the development of ten evidence informed principles for effective pedagogy synopses of these principles have been widely disseminated particularly to practitioners however the evidence and reasoning underpinning them has not yet been fully explained this book fills this gap by providing a scholarly account of the research evidence that informed the development of these principles as well as offering some evidence of early take up and impact it also includes responses from highly respected researchers throughout the world in order to locate the work in the broader international literature to extend it by drawing on similar work elsewhere to provide critique and to stimulate further development and debate principles for effective pedagogy contributes to international dialogue on effective teaching and learning providing a focus for scholarly comment sharing of expertise and knowledge accumulation this book was originally published as a special issue of research papers in education

Technology for Large Space Systems

this book was originally published in 1999 at this time the us economy had recently restructured itself moving away from an industrial economy towards one based on information while the european union and japan were left to worry about rising government deficits inflexible businesses persistent unemployment and workers inadequately trained for the information age why did the us economy move beyond its chief competitors this collection suggests that at least some of the answers to the pattern of divergent development can be found in the role of the entrepreneur by examining the process that entrepreneurs play in the economy the essays in this volume make a fundamental contribution to our understanding of the macroeconomy each chapter clarifies the role of entrepreneur in economic theory the function of small and medium size enterprises that they found and build and the impact of the innovations introduced on employment productivity and economic growth australia and world crisis 1914 1923 is the second volume in a pioneering two volume history of australian defence and foreign policy it is based on wide ranging research in collections of personal and official papers in australia britain the united states and canada linking up with the first volume the search for security in the pacific it offers a new and path breaking understanding of australia s relations with the world from the outbreak of the first world war to the making of peace in europe and the pacific this study explores a number of fundamental issues that shaped australia s response to the world in this era such as race and culture geopolitics and security domestic divisions and ideas of loyalty and the philosophies and personalities of the chief policy makers from the outset of this global conflict australia was involved in a hot war in europe against germany and its allies and in a cold war in the pacific against japan the british australians for reasons of sentiment and interest supported the mother country but even as they did so they were deeply concerned about japan s ambitions as a result japan figured prominently in australia s approach to the war and the peace indeed for the australians the cold war did not come to an end until the washington conference of 1921 2 when japan with the other pacific powers agreed to limit naval building and to respect existing territories in china and the pacific in tracing out this story the book throws light on many particular aspects of the hot and cold wars they include the origins of asian studies in australia intelligence gathering the secret service and loyalty leagues the fear of japan in the conscription controversy irish catholics and the anglo irish war the labour movement and the bolshevik revolution the ideological clash of the american president and the australian prime minister over peacemaking the visit of the prince of wales britishness and the failure of the idea of greater britain all influenced the development of australia s defence and foreign policy at the end of the book there is an attempt to provide an assessment of australia s leadership through these testing times and to point out the significance of this experience for a later generation of australia policy makers beam is the story of the race to make the laser the three intense years from the birth of the laser idea to its breakthrough demonstration in a california laboratory the quest was a struggle against physics established wisdom and the establishment itself in 1954 charles townes invented the laser s microwave cousin the maser the next logical step was to extend the same physical principles to the shorter wavelengths of light but the idea did not catch fire until october 1957 when townes asked gordon Gould about gould s research on using light to excite thallium atoms each took the idea and ran with it the independent minded gould sought the fortune of an independent inventor the professorial townes sought the fame of scientific recognition townes enlisted the help of his brother in law arthur schawlow and got bell labs into the race gould turned his ideas into a patent borth ation and a million dollar defense contract they soon had company ali javan one of townes s former students began pulling 90 hour weeks at bell labs with colleague bill bennett and far away in california a bright young physicist named ted maiman became a very dark horse in the race while schawlow proclaimed that ruby could never make a laser maiman slowly convinced himself it would as others struggled with recalcitrant equipment and military secrecy maiman built a tiny and elegant device that fit in the palm of his hand his ruby laser worked the first time he tried it on may 16 1960 but afterwards he had to battle for acceptance as the man who made the first laser beam is a fascinating tale of a remarkable and powerful invention that has become a symbol of modern technology

Selected Papers of Richard Feynman in the 1830s the french aristocrat alexis de toqueville warned that insufferable despotism would prevail if america ever acquired a national administrative state today s tea partiers evidently believe that after a great wrong turn in the early twentieth century toqueville s nightmare has come true in those years it seems a group of radicals seduced by alien ideologies created vast bureaucracies that continue to trample on individual freedom in toqueville s nightmare daniel r ernst destroys this ahistorical and simplistic narrative he shows that in fact the nation s best corporate lawyers were among the creators of commission government that supporters were more interested in purging government of corruption than creating a socialist utopia and that the principles of individual rights limited government and due process were built into the administrative state far from following un american models american state builders rejected the leading european scheme for constraining government the rechtsstaat a state of rules instead they looked to an anglo american tradition that equated the rule of law with the rule of courts and counted on judges to review the bases for administrators decisions soon however even judges realized that strict judicial review shifted to courts decisions best left to experts the most masterful judges including charles evans hughes chief justice of the united states from 1930 to 1941 ultimately decided that a day in court was unnecessary if individuals had already had a day in commission where the fundamentals of due process and fair play prevailed this procedural notion of the rule of law not only solved the judges puzzle of reconciling bureaucracy and freedom it also assured lawyers that their expertise in the ways of the courts would remain valuable and professional politicians that presidents would not use administratively distributed largess as an independent source of political power toqueville s nightmare has not come to pass instead the american administrative state is a restrained and elegant solution to a thorny problem and it remains in place to this day
