the chapters making up this volume had originally been planned to form part of a single volume covering solid hydrates and aqueous solutions of simple molecules and ions however during the preparation of the manuscripts it became apparent that such a volume would turn out to be very unwieldy and i reluctantly decided to recommend the publication of separate volumes the most sensible way of dividing the subject matter seemed to lie in the separation of simple ionic solutions the emphasis in the present volume is placed on ion solvent effects since a number of excellent texts cover the more general aspects of electrolyte solutions based on the classical theories of Debye Huckel on Sager and Fuoss it is interesting to speculate as to when a theory becomes classical perhaps this occurs when it has become well known well liked and much adapted the above mentioned theories of ionic equilibria and transport certainly fulfill these criteria there comes a time when the refinements and modifications can no longer be related to physical significance and can no longer hide the fact that certain fundamental assumptions made in the development of the theory are untenable especially in the light of information obtained from the application of sophisticated molecular and thermodynamic techniques simple solutions for planet earth is a scientific book written in a popular style for the average reader you have read about peak oil and global climate warming and complained about 4 gallon gasoline but how really serious are these headlines and annoyances the author has worked his entire career on the science technology education administration and politics of these subjects and crystallizes this complex field into understandable elements providing simple solutions for humanity does it make sense for the renewable energy budget of the federal government to be about 1 billion year when o annual tax incentives and government programs for the oil industry are supposedly in the range between 38 billion and 115 billion although lester brown says 210 billion in 2005 o farm subsidies alone in 2004 cost taxpayers 16 2 billion o our country spends 12 billion a month or 144 billion year on the iraq and afghanistan wars ostensibly to protect oil only to raise prices the author s long experience with the greenhouse effect has led him to believe that methane not carbon dioxide could well be the critical gas of concern for there is potential for global warming to cascade into what he terms the venus syndrome the closing chapter speculates on a hypothesis regarding mega tsunamis 100 meter waves from landslides while simple solutions are suggested the problem is the inability of our civilization to agree on a workable strategy which is further weakened by the lack of will on part of the general populace thus the reader is urged to help make that crucial difference instructions and examples are provided on how to attain rainbow vision to carry out this mission for a better planet earth the simplest solution is for everyone to join in on the effort
