air pumps electrical machines colliding ivory balls coloured sparks mechanical planetariums magic mirrors hot air balloons these are just a sample of the devices displayed in public demonstrations of science in the eighteenth century public and private demonstrations of natural philosophy in europe then differed vastly from today s unadorned and anonymous laboratory experiments science was cultivated for a variety of purposes in many different places scientific instruments were built and used for investigative and didactic experiments as well as for entertainment and popular shows between the culture of curiosities which characterized the seventeenth century and the distinction between academic and popular science that gradually emerged in the nineteenth the eighteenth century was a period when scientific activities took place in a variety of sites ranging from academies and learned societies to salons and popular fairs shops and streets this collection of case studies describing public demonstrations in britain germany italy and france exemplifies the wide variety of settings for scientific activities in the european enlightenment filled with sparks and smells the essays raise broader issues about the ways in which modern science established its legitimacy and social acceptability they point to two major features of the cultures of science in the eighteenth century entertainment and utility experimental demonstrations were attended by apothecaries and craftsmen for vocational purposes at the same time they had to fit in with the taste of both polite society and market culture public demonstrations were a favourite entertainment for ladies and gentlemen and a profitable activity for instrument makers and booksellers as mr smith has noted in the introduction to this work there is little so rare in german american genealogy as a complete emigrant passenger list from bremen as most researchers know the bremen lists were destroyed during the fire storm of that city during world war ii in the case of this work however mr smith was able to recover fourteen bremen lists because they had been reprinted in the obscure weekly newspaper from rudolstadt thuringia entitled the allgemeine auswanderungs zeitung which can be found in the rare book collection at yale university the compiler has transcribed the names of all persons bound for america from each of the fourteen lists the emigrants who are arranged alphabetically are identified by place of origin and sometimes by the number of persons in the passenger s family or the names of traveling companions

she is but a woman the first in depth study of medieval scottish queens investigates the relationship between gender and power in the medieval scottish court by exploring the art of queenship as practised by joan beaufort and mary of guelders queens of james i and james ii these women were excluded from authority but clearly possessed power as wives and mothers of kings they established and cultivated relationships with members of the court learned about scottish political life and supported their husbands in the business of government the book examines for the first time the arrivals of joan and mary in scotland their social and political status their relationships with their husbands and families and their roles in international diplomacy this modern re evaluation of the role and power of the medieval queen is a thematic exploration rather than a biographical study it situates the experiences of joan and mary within a broader european context and provides a new perspective on scotland s political social and cultural links with europe in the fifteenth century
