hodge podge is an extension of my imagination it is a collection of stories i made up to entertain my grandkids and to test my ability as a writer most of the plots are fairly simple but i have tried to make them sensible and to follow an understandable pattern although for the most part on re reading i have over used a bloody finish for most of my characters i hope i have made my descriptive passages descriptive and distortions of realities believable when i first started writing prose my intent was to see if i had the skills to do so i went back into the notes and stories i had stored away i m quite the pack rat and found some that might be worked into a passable book i put my poetry aside i had i universe publish light verse limericks and decided that i had enough prose material to appease my ego thus hodge podge materialized to satisfy me so that i could leave something else to posterity in book form
