jeanette myers betsy nies karen sanderson cole karen sands o connor geraldine elizabeth skeete and aisha t spencer the world of caribbean children s literature finds its roots in folktales and storytelling as countries distanced themselves from former colonial powers post 1950s the field has taken a new turn that emerges not just from writers within the region but also from those of its diaspora rich in language diversity and history contemporary caribbean children s literature offers a window into the ongoing representations of not only local realities but also the fantasies that structure the genre itself young adult literature entered the region in the 1970s offering much needed representations of teenage voices and concerns with the growth of local competitions and publishing awards the genre has gained momentum providing a new field of scholarly analyses similarly the field of picture books has also deepened caribbean children s literature volume 1 history pedagogy and publishing includes general coverage of children s literary history in the regions where the four major colonial powers have left their imprint addresses intersections between pedagogy and children s literature in the anglophone caribbean explores the challenges of producing and publishing picture books and engages with local authors familiar with the terrain local writers come together to discuss writerly concerns and publishing challenges in new interviews conducted for this volume international authors edwidge danticat junot díaz and olive senior discuss their transition from writing for adults to creating picture books for children these are challenging times in which to be an educator the constant flow of innovation offers new opportunities to support learners in an environment of ever shifting demands educators work as they have always done making the most of the resources at hand and dealing with constraints to provide experiences which foster growth this was john dewey s ideal of education 80 years ago and it is still relevant today this view sees education as a practice that achieves its goals through creative processes involving both craft and design craft is visible in the resources that educators produce and in their interactions with learners design though is tacit and educators are often unaware of their own design practices the rapid pace of change is shifting the balance from craft to design requiring that educators design work become visible shareable and malleable the participatory patterns workshop is a method for doing this through engaging practitioners in collaborative reflection leading to the production of structured representations of design knowledge the editors have led many such workshops and this book is a record of that endeavour and its outcomes in the form of practical design narratives patterns and scenarios that can be used to address challenges in teaching and learning with technology this two volume encyclopedia profiles the contemporary culture and society of every country in the americas from canada and the united states to the islands of the caribbean and the many countries of latin america from delicacies to dances this encyclopedia introduces readers to cultures and customs of all of the countries of the americas explaining what makes each country unique while also demonstrating what ties the cultures and peoples together the americas profiles the 40 nations and territories that make up north america central america the caribbean and south america including british u s dutch and french territories each country profile takes an in depth look at such contemporary topics as religion lifestyle and leisure cuisine gender roles dress festivals music visual arts and architecture among many others while also providing contextual information on history politics and economics readers will be able to draw cross cultural comparisons such as between gender roles in mexico and those in brazil coverage on every country in the region provides readers with a useful compendium of cultural information ideal for anyone interested in geography social studies global studies and anthropology

these are challenging times in which to be an educator the constant flow of innovation offers new opportunities to support learners in an environment of ever shifting demands educators work as they have always done making the most of the resources at hand and dealing with constraints to provide experiences which foster growth this was john dewey s ideal of education 80 years ago and it is still relevant today this view sees education as a practice that achieves its goals through creative processes involving both craft and design craft is visible in the resources that educators produce and in their interactions with learners design though is tacit and educators are often unaware of their own design practices the rapid pace of change is shifting the balance from craft to design requiring that educators design work become visible shareable and malleable the participatory patterns workshop is a method for doing this through engaging practitioners in collaborative reflection leading to the production of structured representations of design knowledge the editors have led many such workshops and this book is a record of that endeavour and its outcomes in the form of practical design narratives patterns and scenarios that can be used to address challenges in teaching and learning with technology
