Pathways of many pilgrims; or Lights and shadows in the Christian life 1860 this all new study of miniature lamps has grown out of and far beyond the first book published years ago by the author and her husband many almost 600 new examples and much historical material has been combined into this up to date study miniature lamps are a fascination to people interested in antiques lighting and old homes the book illustrates a wide variety of lamps by many identified makers miniature oil and kerosene lamps some as diminutive as 2 1/2 inches high are direct descendants of prehistoric lamps using animal fat and other oils since the miniatures which have been preserved are so small that they cannot have provided adequate reading light their intended function remains somewhat obscure the lamps might have found uses in sickrooms for dispelling a child's bogeyman or as parlor courting lamps making a suitable compromise between the requirements of propriety and romantic aura

A collection of many select and Christian epistles, letters and testimonies, written on sundry occasions, by that ancient, eminent, faithful Friend and minister of Christ Jesus, George Fox 1831 how many miles to babylon uses the writing of European travelers to Egypt between c 1300 and c 1600 to give a picture of the country in the late medieval and early renaissance periods drawing on sources that have hitherto been inaccessible to English speaking audiences these accounts portray an Egypt ruled by the despotic Mamluk sultans and the early Ottoman governors a society at once cruel and sophisticated dangerous and alluring the Europeans' wonderment at the exotic flora and fauna the ancient ruins of temples and pyramids and the astonishing summer rise of the Nile to irrigate the crops and replenish the lakes and waterways of Cairo is well conveyed by these travelers' tales how many miles to babylon is a fascinating picture of the people customs and culture of Egypt from the fourteenth century to the beginning of the seventeenth

A Treatise on Industrial Photometry with Special Application to Electric Lighting 1894 Dave Dashaway around the world or a young Yankee aviator among many nations by Roy Rockwood continues the thrilling adventures of Dave Dashaway a young aviator who captures the spirit of aviation's golden age in this book readers embark on a globe trotting journey alongside Dave as he encounters diverse cultures and faces challenges in various corners of the world Rockwood's storytelling combines aviation excitement with the allure of international travel making this installment a thrilling read for fans of adventure and aviation history

The American Architect and Building News 1894 this book contains twenty four expositions of thirty of the main parables of Jesus along with an essay on their interpretation it gives evidence that in seeking to proclaim the word of God in the present day situation modern preaching is binding itself closely to the text of the Bible
