Non-Functional Properties in Service Oriented Architecture: Requirements, Models and Methods

2011-03-31

this book offers a selection of chapters that cover three important aspects related to the use of non functional properties in soa requirements specification with respect to non functional properties modeling non functional properties and implementation of non functional properties provided by publisher

Application of Measurement Criteria in the Selection of Interactive Computer Services

this authoritative text reference describes the state of the art in requirements engineering for software systems for distributed computing a particular focus is placed on integrated solutions which take into account the requirements of scalability flexibility sustainability and operability for distributed environments topics and features discusses the latest developments tools technologies and trends in software requirements engineering reviews the relevant theoretical frameworks practical approaches and methodologies for service requirements examines the three key components of the requirements engineering process namely requirements elicitation requirements specification and requirements validation and evaluation presents detailed contributions from an international selection of highly reputed experts in the field offers guidance on best practices and suggests directions for further research in the area

Criteria and Procedures for Making Route and Service Decisions by Amtrak

many software developers often confuse requirements engineering with software specification and as a result build unusable systems despite meeting specifications bringing together all the techniques needed by the modern software developer here is a practical handbook to requirements engineering and systems specification for developers building systems within a service oriented architecture it introduces the concepts of soa and relevant standards and technology such as services and esbs and then presents a range of modern requirements engineering techniques

Criteria for the Performance Evaluation of Data Communications Services for Computer Networks

examines aec uranium enrichment service contracts and post 1968 objectives concerning u s sales of and safeguards for nuclear fuels and substances

Teleconference Service Requirements for CATV Networks

1974

documents a methodology for determining the resources required i e vehicles and vehicle service hours to provide demand responsive transportation drt for different levels of demand and different levels of service in a given service area this report is accompanied by a software tool on cd rom crp cd 40 that can provide a preliminary estimate of the number of vehicles required for a new or modified drt service an instruction manual for software use is also included on the referenced cd rom
