however people remember jackson no one can deny that in cultural terms jackson remains a compelling subject an icon of the late 20th century he reflects not only the changes in the circumstances of the african american population but changes in white america jackson was idolized perhaps even reified and for many objectified into an extraordinary being an other for whom there were no established reference points in white people s conceptions the destruction and creation of michael jackson places jackson at the center of its argument but maintains he was a creation of at first american and later global culture at a time when it seemed desirable if not necessary to exalt a black person on merit america had become a society in which someone of jackson s indisputable genius not only can but must rise to the top

a bold new conception of heidegger s project of destruktion as a method of interpreting history for martin heidegger our inherited traditions provide the concepts through which we make our world intelligible concepts we can also oppose disrupt and even exceed first however if western philosophy is our inheritance we must submit it to destruktion starting with aristotle heidegger and the destruction of aristotle on how to read the tradition presents a new conception of heidegger's destruction as a way of reading situated between nietzschean genealogy and derridean deconstruction this method uncovers in aristotle the most vital originating articulations of the western tradition and gives us the means to confront it sean d kirkland argues this is not a rejection of the past but a sophisticated and indeed timely hermeneutic tool a complex illuminating and powerful method for interpreting historical texts at our present moment acknowledging the historical heidegger as a politically compromised and still divisive figure kirkland demonstrates that heideggerian destruction is a method of interpreting history that enables us to reorient and indeed transform its own most troubling legacies

Bosnia and the Destruction of Cultural Heritage the massive intentional destruction of cultural heritage during the 1992 1995 bosnian war targeting a historically diverse identity provoked global condemnation and became a seminal marker in the discourse on cultural heritage it prompted an urgent reassessment of how cultural property could be protected in times of conflict and led to a more definitive recognition in international humanitarian law that destruction of a people s cultural heritage is an aspect of genocide yet surprisingly little has been published on the subject this wide ranging book provides the first comprehensive overview and critical analysis of the destruction of bosnia herzegovina s cultural heritage and its far reaching impact scrutinizing the responses of the international community during the war including bodies like unesco and the council of europe the volume also analyses how after the conflict ended external agendas impinged on heritage reconstruction to the detriment of the broader peace process and refugee return it assesses implementation of annex 8 of the dayton peace agreement a unique attempt to address the devastation to bosnia s cultural heritage and examines the treatment of war crimes involving cultural property at the international criminal tribunal for the former yugoslavia icty with numerous case studies and plentiful illustrations this important volume considers questions which have moved to the foreground with the inclusion of cultural heritage preservation in discussions of the right to culture in human rights discourse and as a vital element of post conflict and development aid this interdisciplinary study fuses analysis of feminist literature and manifestos radical political theory critical vanguard studies women s performance art and popular culture to argue for the animal liberation movement as successor to the liberationist visions of the early twentieth century avant gardes most especially the surrealists these vanguard groups are judiciously critiqued for their refusal to confront their own misogyny a quandary that continues to plague animal activists thereby disallowing for cohesion and full recognition of women s value within a culturally marginalized cause this volume is of interest to anyone who is concerned about the continued indeed escalating violence against nonhumans more broadly it will interest those seeking new pathways to challenge the dominant power constructions through which oppression of humans nonhumans and the environment thrives women destruction and the avant garde ultimately poses the animal liberation movement as having serious political and cultural implications for radical social change destruction of hierarchy and for a world without shackles and cages much as the surrealists envisioned this highly original work provides a thought provoking and valuable resource for researchers and academics with an interest in genocide criminology international organizations and law and society in her book caroline fournet examines the law relating to genocide and explores the apparent failure of society to provide an adequate response to incidences of mass atrocity the work casts a legal perspective on this social phenomenon to show that genocide fails to be appropriately remembered due to inherent defects in the law of genocide itself the book thus connects the social response to the legal theory and practice and trials in particular fournets study illustrates the shortcomings of the genocide convention as a means of preventing and punishing genocide as well as its consequent failure to ensure the memory of this heinous crime this book draws on extensive fieldwork among muslims in nepal to examine the local and global factors that shape contemporary muslim identity and the emerging islamic revival movement based in the kathmandu valley nepal s muslims are active participants in the larger global movement of sunni revival as well as in nepal s own local politics of representation the book traces how these two worlds are lived and brought together in the context of nepal s transition to secularism and explores muslim struggles for self definition and belonging against a backdrop of historical marginalization and an unprecedented episode of anti muslim violence in 2004 through the voices and experiences of muslims themselves the book examines nepal s most influential islamic organizations for what they reveal about contemporary movements of revival among religious minorities on the margins both geographic and social of the so called islamic world it reveals that islamic revival is both a complex response to the challenges faced by modern minority communities in this historically hindu kingdom and a movement to cultivate new modes of thought and piety among nepal s muslims in the early sixties crowds gathered to watch rites of destruction from the demolition derby where makeshift cars crashed into each other for sport to concerts where musicians destroyed their instruments to performances of self destructing machines staged by contemporary artists destruction in both its playful and fearsome aspects was ubiquitous in the new atomic age this complicated subjectivity was not just a way for people to find catharsis amid the fears of annihilation and postwar trauma but also a complex instantiation of ideological crisis in a time with some seriously conflicted political myths destruction rites explores the ephemeral visual culture of destruction in the postwar era and its links to contemporary art it examines the demolition derby games and toys based on warfare playgrounds situated in bomb sites and the rise of garage sales where goods designed for obsolescence and destined for the garbage heap are reclaimed and repurposed by local communities mona hadler looks at artists such as jean tinguely niki de saint phalle martha rosler and vito acconci to expose how the 1960s saw destruction construction and the everyday collide as never before during the atomic age whether in the public sphere or art museums destruction could be transformed into a constructive force and art objects and performances often oscillated between the two based in sociologist zygmunt bauman s theory of liquid modernity this volume describes and critiques key aspects and practices of liquid education education as market driven consumption short life span of useful knowledge overabundance of information through a systematic comparison with ancient greek paideia and medieval university education producing a sweeping analysis of the history and philosophy ofeducation for the purpose of understanding current higher education positing a more holisitic alternative model in which students are embedded in a learning commutity that is itself embedded in a larger society if liquid modernity has left a vacuum where according to bauman the pilot s cabin is empty this volume argues that no structure is better positioned to fill this vacuum than the university and outlines a renewed vision of social transformation through higher education
