Emperador Salvaje 2005 a series of panoramic photographs were taken of an alpine view from the balcony of a mountain lodge called the Rechenau near Kiefersfelden in Bavaria. Maryam and Rolf Sachs focused their camera on two majestic mountain peaks: der zahme Kaiser the Tame Emperor on the left and der wilde Kaiser the Wild Emperor on the right that lie over the German border in Austria. The discipline for the project was rigorous throughout 2004; the camera, which was housed in a purpose-built shelter, shot over 50,000 photographs each taken every 10 and a half minutes. The pictures succeeded in capturing nature's ever-changing moods. Rolf Sachs studied business management and is a renowned London-based furniture and object designer. Maryam Sachs, who holds a Master's in International Affairs, has published anthologies such as Der Mond (The Moon) and Der Kuss (The Kiss), which includes a foreword by Wilfried Dickhoff, noted art critic and curator of such exhibitions as The Art Project in Between at the Expo 2000. Selected photographs from Rechenau will be exhibited throughout Europe. 133 colour photos.

Quaranta proposizioni attribuite ad Antonio Rosmini 1889 this book explores the interconnections and differentiations between artisanal workshops and alchemical laboratories and between the arts and alchemy from antiquity to the eighteenth century. In particular, it scrutinizes epistemic exchanges between producers of the arts and alchemists in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. The term laboratorium uniquely referred to workplaces in which chemical operations were performed: smelting, combustion, distillation, dissolution, and precipitation. Artisanal workshops equipped with furnaces and fire in which chemical operations were performed were also known as laboratories. Transmutational alchemy, the transmutation of all base metals into more noble ones, especially gold, was only one aspect of alchemy. In the early modern period, the practice of alchemy was also about the chemical production of things: medicines, porcelain, dyes, and other products, as well as precious metals, and about the knowledge of how to produce them. This book uses examples such as the uffizi to discuss how Renaissance courts established spaces where artisanal workshops and laboratories were brought together, thus facilitating the circulation of materials, people, and knowledge between the worlds of craft. Today's decorative arts and alchemy artisans became involved in alchemical pursuits beyond a shared material culture, and some crafts relied on chemical expertise offered by scholars trained as alchemists. Above all, texts and books, products and symbols of scholarly culture, played an increasingly important role in artisanal workshops. In these workplaces, a sort of hybrid figure was at work, with one foot in artisanal and the other in scholarly culture. This hybrid practitioner is impossible to categorize in the mutually exclusive categories of scholar and craftsman. By the seventeenth century, the expertise of some glassmakers, silver and goldsmiths, and producers of porcelain was just as based in the worlds of alchemical and bookish learning as it was grounded in hands-on work in the laboratory. This book suggests that this shift in workshop culture facilitated the epistemic exchanges between alchemists and producers of the decorative arts.

Discipline Filosofiche (2014-2) 2014-09-01 this book is a treasure house of Italian philosophy, narrating and explaining the history of Italian philosophers from the Middle Ages to the twentieth century. The author identifies the specificity, peculiarity, originality, and novelty of Italian philosophical thought in the men and women of the Renaissance. The vast intellectual output of the Renaissance can be traced back to a single philosophical stream beginning in Florence and fed by numerous converging human factors. This work offers historians and philosophers a vast survey and penetrating analysis of an intellectual tradition which has heretofore remained virtually unknown to the Anglophonic world of scholarship.

La natura come amante 2010 un coacervo di filosofia naturale, filosofia del diritto, filosofia della storia, storia della filosofia che spero possa al lettore paziente informarsi armonicamente a organo di riflessione duratura e ragionata sul quid pluris del sociale, grigiamente ammantato da modernità quotidiana, vana e vacua, che sommessamente queste righe per il lettore e finanche per lo scrivente stesso rappresentino la percezione dell'asperità della via stretta e angusta verso una moralità coscienziosa, razionale, escatologica.
