How to Survive in a Desert 1993 this book chronicles a young white woman s sojourn into the flats an african american ghetto community to study the support system family and friends form when coping with poverty eschewing the traditional method of entry into the community used by anthropologists through authority figures and community leaders she approached the families herself by way of an acquaintance from school becoming one of the first sociologists to explore the black kinship network from the inside the result was a landmark study that debunked the misconception that poor families were unstable and disorganized on the contrary her study showed that families in the flats adapted to their poverty conditions by forming large resilient lifelong support networks based on friendship and family that were very powerful highly structured and surprisingly complex this text is also an indictment of a social system that reinforces welfare dependency and chronic unemployment
