Gender, Governance and Islam 2019-08-05 this book is a translation of aziz al azmeh s seminal work al ilmaniya min mandhur mukhtalif that was first published in beirut in 1992 both celebrated and criticised for its reflections on arab secularisation and secularism in the modern history of the arab world it is the only study to date to approach its subject as a set of historical changes which affected the regulation of the social political and cultural order and which permeated the concrete workings of society rather than as an ideological discussion framed from the outset by the assumed opposition between islam and secularism the author takes a comprehensive analytical perspective to show that an almost imperceptible yet real multi faceted and objective secularising process has been underway in the arab world since the 1850s the early onset was the result of adapting to systemic novelties introduced at the time and a reaction to the perceived european advance and local retardation the need for meaningful reform and the actions taken in order to put in place a new organisation of state and society based on modern organisational and educational criteria rather than older religious traditions stemmed from the perceived weakness of arab polities and from an internal drive to overcome this situation the book follows these themes into the close of the 20th century marked with the rise of islamism a preface to the english translation takes a retrospective look at the theme from the vantage point of social political and intellectual issues of relevance today

Secularism in the Arab World 2020-03-18 examines transnational chinese stardom as a based phenomenon

Sorrowful Muslim's Guide 2018-09-26 this research examines the social political and economic history of indians in zanzibar in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries specifically between 1870s and 1963 based on evidence collected from oral interviews and written archival documents this research work argues that the indian migration history in zanzibar during this period was impacted by their religious diversity economic factors and social factors as well as the british colonial interest this research analysis yielded a number of the following key findings first there were heterogeneous migration patterns among the indian migrants in east africa influenced by various factors including religion caste and the historical contexts in which particular migrants arrived second numerous different social physical economic and political processes in india and east africa motivated indians to leave their homeland and form a migration community in zanzibar from 1800 to 1963 third the desire to pass on their religion traditions and customs to their descendants was a significant motivation for indians to open their own private schools in zanzibar fourth the change of administration in 1890 had a major impact on the indians in zanzibar especially investors who had already invested heavily in the local economy finally despite their minority status compared to other communities such as africans and arabs indians participated in the politics of zanzibar that led towards independence

The History of Indians in Zanzibar from the 1870s to 1963 2022 it is the desire in a person that makes one seek the truth and it is the silent whispers of the heart that stirs those desires to take the courageous path like the whispers of my heart to have my independent thinking to examine everything like the yearning in me to find out why i exist and what really is the concept of god this led me to embark on my journey of discovery i was ready to take on the challenge like me every one of us desires to know the answers to the meaning of their lives and beliefs few gather the courage to walk this road fear of what they might discover at the turning point of the road grips them fear of losing the comfort zone they possess shatters them and fear of being alone in the end terrifies them so they shun their desire for truth and subdue their courage for questioning and challenging what turning point has to offer is only for those who are ready to meet their fears take the challenge and find the answers if our creator is the truth our puny challenges and questions can do no harm to its existence are you ready
