activating critical thinking to advance the sustainable development goals in tourism systems focuses on the role of critical thinking and inquiry in the implementation of the 2030 sustainable development goals sdgs in tourism systems the impetus for the development of this book emerged from the declaration by the united nations un general assembly of 2017 as the international year of sustainable tourism for development this declaration purposely positions tourism as a tool to advance the universal 2030 agenda for sustainable development and the 17 sdgs thus mutually serving as an opportunity and responsibility to appraise from a critical lens what the sdgs signify and how they can be understood from multiple perspectives the chapters in the book foster the next phase of sustainable tourism scholarship that actively considers the interconnections of the un s sdgs to tourism theory and praxis and activates critical thinking to analyze and advance sustainability in tourism systems it articulates the need for the academy to be more intrinsically involved in ongoing iterations of multilateral accords and decrees to ensure they embody more critical and inclusive transitions toward sustainability as opposed to market driven neoliberal directives the contributions in this book encourage various worldviews challenging shaping and more critically reflecting the realities of global communities as related to and impacted by sustainable tourism development the chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal of sustainable tourism

the idea and practice of the green economy is gaining momentum coinciding with financial instability and continued economic woe in the global north but generally more positive economic circumstances in the global south green economic initiatives in the global south are multiplying and include carbon payments ecotourism community based wildlife management sustainability certification initiatives and offsets by mining companies exploiting new resources these initiatives are reallocating resources redefining inequalities and redistributing the fortune and misfortune of participants of the green economy and those excluded from it they have also led to resistance locally nationally and transnationally and to demands for alternatives to market driven instruments and solutions which are generally gaining strength and coherence the articles included in this volume bring together a multi disciplinary team of scholars from north and south to provide nuanced analyses of green economy experiences in the global south analysing the opportunities they provide but also the redistributions they entail and the kinds of resistances they face the ultimate aim of the collection is to provide a critical but balanced overview of the emerging green economy in the global south and point the way to possible adjustments alternatives or radical resistance depending on different situations this book was originally published as a special issue of third world quarterly
