within the rapidly expanding field of educational technology learners and educators must confront a seemingly overwhelming selection of tools designed to deliver and facilitate both online and blended learning many of these tools assume that learning is configured and delivered in closed contexts through learning management systems lms however while traditional classroom learning is by no means obsolete networked learning is in the ascendant a foundational method in online and blended education as well as the most common means of informal and self directed learning networked learning is rapidly becoming the dominant mode of teaching as well as learning in teaching crowds dron and anderson introduce a new model for understanding and exploiting the pedagogical potential of based technologies one that rests on connections on networks and collectives rather than on separations recognizing that online learning both demands and affords new models of teaching and learning the authors show how learners can engage with social media platforms to create an unbounded field of emergent connections these connections empower learners allowing them to draw from one another s expertise to formulate and fulfill their own educational goals in an increasingly networked world developing such skills will they argue better prepare students to become self directed lifelong learners

this book was born from curiosity to begin with it was the curiosity of an economist who studied in the 60 s in an environment which has subsequently developed from national into global economics who has to recognize that politicians scholars and large segments of society oblivious to supranational authorities and e nomic globalization forces continue to labour under the notion that they are still fully autonomous and sovereign when shaping national economic policy and pretend as though their own national state were still the m ter in its own house that despite unbridled market economics could c tinue to dictate to the economy and companies how to live and in which rooms all that has become fiction the laws of globalization diminish the noeuvring space for shaping national economic policy even if many folks today don t want to hear it the issue is no longer achieving what is soc politically desirable for the own society but rather the optimal adaptation of society and social benefits to the politically practicable
