perhaps no factor has a greater influence on children's literacy learning than exposure to engaging authentic culturally relevant texts. This concise practitioner resource and course text helps K-8 teachers make informed choices about using children's literature in their classrooms from selecting high quality texts to planning instruction and promoting independent reading. The authors present relevant theories such as reader response and culturally responsive pedagogy and show how to apply them in practice. Key topics include teaching narrative and expository texts, tapping into students' individual interests and conducting text-based writing activities and discussions. Every chapter features case examples, reflection questions and learning activities for teachers. Appendices list exemplary children's literature. The rivalry between the Trojans and Spartans has an uneasy ending during a community event. As best friends Cassie and Greg try to strengthen a tenuous romantic relationship, a first kiss, a high school prom, the county fair, a tender embrace, finding true love and coming of age are themes weaved into the stories. Found in Love: Me from established YA authors comes this sweet and telling anthology of young love. Authors Shana Norris, Sarah Tregay, TK Richardson, Ela Lond, Amy Kinzer and Emily Ann Ward offer these exceptional tales of sweet romance with one voice. These authors also join together to offer hope. The profits from this anthology will be donated to a nonprofit organization advocating for children in the foster care system.
