the cult of the dead centered on todos santos the all saints day all souls day celebration is one of the most important aspects of mesoamerican indian and mestizo religion focusing on rural tlaxcala in mexico hugo nutini presents a thorough description and analysis of the cult in its syncretic structural and expressive dimensions and describes its development from the original confrontation of pre hispanic polytheism and spanish catholicism through colonial times until the disintegration of the system of folk religions that is even now occurring the discussion of the expressive component of the cult of the dead is a crucial contribution of the study professor nutini shows that symbolism can be an adjunct to expressive studies but not an end in itself in addition he postulates a theory that may serve as a model for studies of the combination and reconciliation of religious beliefs in other contexts emphasizing folk theology teleology and eschatology rather than the mechanical and administrative components more frequently studied in works on mesoamerican indian and mestizo religions he concludes that the local system is monolatrous rather than monotheistic originally published in 1988 the princeton legacy library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of princeton university press

these editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions the goal of the princeton legacy library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by princeton university press since its founding in 1905 the Lloyd's Register Technical Association (Irta) was established in 1920 with the primary objective of sharing technical expertise and knowledge within Lloyd's Register publications have consistently been released on a yearly basis with a brief interruption between 1938 and 1946 these publications serve as a key reference point for best practices and were initially reserved for internal use to maximise Ir's competitive advantage today the Irta takes a fresh approach focusing on collaboration by combining professional expertise from across the Ir group to ensure a frequent output of fresh perspectives and relevant content the Irta has evolved into a group wide initiative that identifies, captures and shares knowledge spanning various business streams and functions to support this modern approach the Irta has adopted a new structure featuring representatives and senior governance across the business streams and the Ir Foundation the Lloyd's Register Technical Association papers should be seen as historical documents representing earlier viewpoints and are not reflective of current thinking and perspectives by the current Ir Technical Association
