South Asians in the Diaspora 2023-07-03 mihir bose was born in january 1947 eight months later india became a modern free nation the country he knew growing up in the 1960s has undergone vast and radical change india today exports food sends space probes to mars and all too often indian businesses rescue their ailing competitors in the west in from midnight to glorious morning bose travels the length and breadth of india to explore how a country that many doubted would survive has been transformed into one capable of rivaling china as the world's preeminent economic superpower multifarious challenges still continue to plague the country although inequality and corruption are issues not unique to india such a rapid ascent to global prominence creates a precarious position however as bose outlines this rapid ascent provides evidence that india is ever capable of making great strides in the face of great adversity bose's penetrating analysis of the last seventy years asks what is yet to be done for india in order to fulfill the destiny with which it has been imbued the predictions of doom in august 1947 have proved to be unfounded the growth of the nation in population and capital has been exponential and there is much to celebrate but bose's nuanced personal and trenchant book shows that it is naïve to pretend the hoped for bright morning has yet dawned lessons which teach us how by living righteously and in accordance with god's will we can be happy in the present critical age for many years geesje lunshof poet teacher writer wandered through the world on a spiritual quest finally in the late seventies she returned to her native country the netherlands where she settled down as an english teacher in 1980 she heard of sai baba for the first time soon it became clear to her that he represented the end of her search in 1991 after her second trip to sai baba in india sai baba started answering her many questions in an inner dialogue this took place through the process of written questions and answers as many of these questions and certainly all the answers are of general interest it gradually became clear to her that she must not keep the dialogue to herself but should share it with others
