the recorded history of precolonial burmese empire and the modern state of myanmar starts with the kingdom of bagan in the eleventh century the oldest surviving written records and structures are from the reign of king anawrahta 1044 1077 anawrahta converted to theravada buddhism and created a vibrant buddhist state in the irrawaddy river basin anawrahta is a folk hero to this day in myanmar and is widely credited as a charismatic and pious leader who consolidated various ethnic groups throughout the region into a single nation the wheel turner and his house traces the archaeological and historical record of anawrahta and his seminal position in forming modern myanmar based on the few sources that have been recovered the great chronicle an important history of the country written by the 18th century burmese nobleman u kala forms the basis for much of the knowledge we have about anawrahta today geok yian goh examines u kala s work in light of the context of u kala s own time and points out the bias of his royal court as well as the scribe s personal views from the elaborate narratives he produced she looks at other sources as well including unpublished palm leaf manuscripts to disentangle earlier knowledge about anawrahta and eleventh century bagan placing the overall study of burmese historical tradition within the larger manuscript culture of asia goh presents a critique of theoretical issues in history especially the relationship between the past and memory in order to analyze the expansion of anawrahta s historical image that formed the development of a buddhist ecumene in the eleventh and twelfth centuries goh utilizes published and unpublished texts in burmese and classical chinese along with northern thai and sri lankan texts many of which goh makes available for the first time in english describes how the engineer george ferris invented the famous carnival attraction for the renowned 1893 chicago world s fair reprint of the original first published in 1873 in the 1890s colonel albert a pope was hailed as a leading american automaker that his name is not a household word today is the very essence of his story pope s production methods as the world s largest manufacturer of bicycles led to the building of automobiles with lightweight metals rubber tires precision machining interchangeable parts and vertical integration the founder of the good roads movement pope entered automobile manufacturing while steam electricity and gasoline power were still vying for supremacy the story of his failed dream of dominating u s automobile production is an engrossing view into america s industrial history ved mehta s book on gandhi 1977 is one of the great portraits of the political leader travelling the world to talk to gandhi s family friends and followers drawing his daily life in exacting detail mehta gives us a nuanced and complex picture of the great man and brings him vividly alive huang xiang 黄翔 the protagonist of this book was born on 26th december 1941 in guidong county hunan province of central china after the communists came to power in 1949 he was imprisoned six times and severely persecuted for his free spirited writing and his campaigns for human rights for more than thirty years this self educated poet and writer wrote secretly against the bondage of totalitarian ideology to safe guard the freedom of speech according to the author of the book huang is a great dark poet who has expressed the painful memories fears and struggles that haunted his life creating wonderful poetic beauty in the darkness his poetic creation is a miracle in the history of chinese contemporary literature we may say that huang s identity as an unknown dark poet is conditioned by his personal emotional and tragic experiences of struggles while facing historical events such as the cultural revolution from 1966 to 1976 the april 5th movement in 1976 the democracy wall movement in 1978 and the pro democracy movement in 1989 the old fashioned ghost story was always terrifying and ghastly something that made people afraid to go to bed or to look over their shoulders or to enter a room in the dark it dealt with apparitions in a white sheet and clanking chains and dreadful faces that peered out from behind the window curtains in a haunted chamber and the more blood curdling it was the more keenly people enjoyed it until they were left alone and then they were apt to wish that they had been reading robinson crusoe or alison s history of europe instead now the present book embodies an attempt to write a cheerful ghost story a story in which the ghostly element is of a friendly and pleasant character and sheds a sense of happiness and sunshine over the entire life of the ghost seer whether the author has succeeded in doing so will be for his readers to decide it is only necessary to add that he has not introduced a single supernormal incident that has not occurred and been authenticated in the recorded experiences of persons lately or still alive in february of 1982 i flew to buenos aires then on to cordoba argentina to meet with dr reimar horten 1915 1994 the designer of a series of sail and powered all wing flying machines he lived in retirement on a ranch 15 to 20 miles from the small town of villa general belgrano after an over night flight from miami florida i arrived at the cordoba reimar horten with a full head of white hair met me and we drove off to his ranch in a white ford pickup truck reimar had total recall i have met only two such people in my life we spoke only in english and our conversations were recorded on cassette tapes which several years later i donated to the national air space museum library after several days of speaking only english reimar was speaking english to everyone his wife helpers on his ranch shop keepers in villa general belgano and families he d meet walking on the road into town when he offered them a ride in the back of his truck few english speaking people ever visited this remote area of argentina at the foot hills of andes mountains his wife gisela frequently had to remind her husband that all these argentinians had no idea of what he was saying to them so please speak spanish i lived at the horten ranch for one month recording my conversation with reimar horten i returned the following year 1983 for another month our two month conversation resulted in 86 two hour taped cassettes the material presented in this volume a second volume contains conversations with walter horten over numerous visits to his home in baden baden west germany has been used in my five copyrighted books on the horten brothers i thank them immensely and now the world hears their voice their personal struggles failures as well as their successes in seeking to perfect the performances of the all wing aircraft a philosopher and former racing cyclist examines how competitive riders lose their sense of self as they pursue perfect motion and mastery over pain after ten years as a racing cyclist riding in up to ninety races a year olivier haralambon became a journalist and philosopher in the cyclist and his shadow he writes about the world of competitive cycling with rare honesty and self reflection exploring it not merely as a sport but as a spiritual and artistic practice imbued with a mystical quality in prose at once poetic and precise haralambon depicts the intensity of cycling as physical activity in which the rider s consciousness becomes inseparable from the instantaneous movements of limbs the exertion of heart and lungs and the marshaling and expenditure of energy he describes riding as an ascetic activity always accompanied by pain that the cyclist can control but never fully eliminate but cycling for haralambon is not only suffering but also an addictively pleasurable activity in which the rider s sense of self dissolves and melds with the bicycle mind and body exploring the vibrant solitude of the course and limits of human endurance engaging in the repetition of ascension and the endless hours immersed in an oceanic interior cyclists are artists in the vastness of landscape both interior and exterior published in association with the cycling podcast thecyclingpodcast com the cyclist and his shadow offers an illuminating meditation on what drives cyclists to devote their lives and bodies to training racing and even doping drawing from personal experience haralambon presents cycling as simultaneously physical and creative technological and mystical
