this book positions itself at the intersection of the interrelationship between three key areas of initial teacher education constructivist learning theories teaching practicum and the promotion of reflective practices it presents an innovative approach to teacher preparation at undergraduate and postgraduate levels by critically examining the implementation of a mandatory experiential learning block across subject disciplines on undergraduate and postgraduate teacher preparation courses this book presents multiple examples and case studies of these varied experiential learning projects that will inform academics teachers and policymakers through these rich examples the authors set out to address the theory practice dilemma in teacher education where teachers to be are often positioned as consumers of educational research in classrooms read reference books and academic papers on teaching and observe university and school experts before applying the same acquired theories and practices in their own classes in the book the authors argue for a shift away from this conventional teacher learning curriculum that is characterised by the separation of theory and practice choosing instead to promote pedagogy and methods courses where practice underpins all learning these pedagogical perspectives include the promotion of a diverse range of learning contexts including on and off campus learning sites for student teachers to experience during their time on teacher education courses a comprehensive up to date look at modern russian higher education by the mid eighteenth century when the first university appeared in russia many european nations could boast of long and glorious university traditions but russia with its poorly developed system of elementary and secondary education lagged behind other european countries and seemed destined for a long spell of second tier performance yet by the mid twentieth century the fully reformed system of soviet higher education was perceived as an unexpected success one that transformed the country into a major scientific power throughout the cold war today the international community is keeping close tabs on the fast development of world class higher education in russia specifically its large scale changes and reforms higher education in russia is the first comprehensive up to date overview and analysis of modern russian higher education aimed at a large international audience it describes the current realities of higher education in russia as well as the main principles logic and relevant historical and cultural factors outlining the development of the higher education system in tsarist russia throughout the nineteenth century yaroslav kuzminov and maria yudkevich describe the development of its mass scale higher education system from the end of the second world war to the collapse of the soviet union and beyond they also discuss the principal elements of today's Russian higher education system while exploring the system's governance model and the logic of its resource allocation they touch on university selection the structure of the country's academic profession the organization of research and the major excellence programs of leading universities illustrating the idea that the development of the higher education system is very much linked with the European experience the authors argue that Russian higher education was often the domain of successful and not so successful education experiments and innovations higher education in Russia is a must read for scholars of higher education and Russian history alike based on case studies of 11 societies in the world s most dynamic region this book signals a new direction of study at the intersection of citizenship education and the curriculum following their successful volume citizenship education in asia and the pacific concepts and issues published as no 14 in this series the editors widely regarded as leaders in the field in the asia pacific region have gone beyond broad citizenship education frameworks to examine the realities tensions and pressures that influence the formation of the citizenship curriculum chapter authors from different societies have addressed two fundamental questions 1 how is citizenship education featured in the current curriculum reform agenda in terms of both policy contexts and values and 2 to what extent do the reforms in citizenship education reflect current debates within the society from comparative analysis of these 11 case studies the editors have found a complex picture of curriculum reform that indicates deep tensions between global and local agendas on one hand there is substantial evidence of an increasingly common policy rhetoric in the debates about citizenship education on the other it is evident that this discourse does not necessarily extend to citizenship curriculum which in most places continues to be constructed according to distinctive social political and cultural contexts whether the focus is on islamic values in pakistan an emerging discourse about chinese democracy a nostalgic conservatism in australia or a continuing nation building project in malaysia the cases show that distinctive social values and ideologies construct national citizenship curricula in asian contexts even in this increasingly globalized era this impressive collection of case studies of a diverse group of societies informs and enriches understanding of the complex relationship between citizenship education and the curriculum both regionally and globally
