broadcasting in south africa over the past 100 years the publication will add to the existing body of knowledge on radio in this context by being among one of the few to consider radio broadcasting in south africa essentially the book will make a distinct contribution by providing the following a historical account of the development of the sector an in depth look at some of the key people and institutions that have shaped the sector and a critique of the medium s role in community building and culture making among others while the book will provide relevant theoretical frameworks it also aims to include the voices of media practitioners who can reflect on the importance of this medium from a more realistic perspective volume 1 focuses on south african radio stations and broadcasters in the past and present in this volume a range of authors from different international contexts argue that the notion of communicative competence in english hitherto largely referenced to metropolitan native speaker norms has to be expanded to take account of diverse contexts of use for a variety of purposes it also discusses the popular belief that language and literacy should simply be regarded as a technical skill which confers universal benefits and that it should be replaced with a social practice view that recognises situated variations and diversity this volume we believe provides a reference point for extended research and practice in these areas that will be of interest to wide range of people engaged in language and literacy education this collection challenges the prevailing conflict of laws approach to the interaction of state and indigenous legal systems it introduces adaptive legal pluralism as an alternative framework that emphasises dialogue and engagement between these legal systems by exploring a dialogic approach to legal pluralism the authors shed light on how it can effectively address the challenges stemming from the colonial imposition of industrial legal systems on africa s agrarian political economies this book discusses salient moments of multilingual encounters and brings together contributions focused on the interplay between language use by individuals and societies and language related inequalities or opportunities for speakers the chapters demonstrate how biographical and speaker centred approaches can contribute to an understanding of linguistic diversity how researchers can empirically account for lived experiences of languages and how such accounts are embedded in a larger discussion on social inequality together the chapters make a powerful case for the importance of speaker centred methodologies in multilingual and multilingualism research the book is a rich source of theoretical and methodological reflections and will thus be a valuable resource for both experienced researchers and students beginning to explore biographical research methods the range of languages covered by the lexicographic investigations reported on e g afrikaans english northern sotho yilumbu fang french and dutch is a clear indication of the wide ranging influence of rufus gouws to whom the work is dedicated accommodation of population diversity is a vital issue for any multinational society the legacy of apartheid in south africa complicates this effort considerably henrard introduces a theoretical framework regarding how to accommodate minority protection in the most appropriate way and analyzes the respective contributions of individual rights minority rights and the right to self determination subsequent chapters examine the case study of post apartheid south africa and attempt to investigate its constitutional development henrard finds that provisions within the 1996 constitution do acknowledge an interrelation between these three important factors however implementation of minority protection policy is often quite a different matter in seeking

appropriate means of minority protection this study stresses inclusionism integration and the essential right to identity and real equality while henrard reviews and discusses the entire democratic transformation process in south africa she cautions that because current developments are characterized by their unsettled nature major transformation and flux analysis of the implementation phase can be only indicative the apartheid history does not in itself inhibit progressive stances on this important issue still despite the promising nature of the 1996 constitution the picture that emerges in terms of policy development aimed at minority protection is ambivalent are tesol professionals now fairly seen as agents of a new english speaking empire or if they wish to distance themselves from this role are there ways of working and living that would make this differentiation clear an international group of authors put forward their differing proposals for the development of tesol forced migration in the 21st century is inextricably linked to three global developments climate change rapid urbanization and the lack of solutions faced by millions of forcibly displaced people by adding a focus on the disciplines of history and philosophy this erudite handbook challenges narratives on forced migration and explains these contemporary challenges in a unique light this volume brings together studies of instructional writing practices and the products of those practices from diverse indigenous languages and cultures by analyzing a rich diversity of contexts finland ghana hawaii mexico papua new guinea and more through biliteracy complexity and genre theories this book explores and demonstrates critical components of writing pedagogy and development because the volume focuses on indigenous languages it questions center margin perspectives on schooling and national language ideologies which often limit the number of indigenous languages taught the domains of study and the age groups included

south africa s transformation to democracy has highlighted the need for reliable socio economic information and analysis to inform the process of meeting our numerous and complex development challenges despite the international community s recognition of social protection as a human right the vast majority of the world s population still has no access to social protection in a major effort to address this situation the international labour conference unanimously adopted the social protection floors recommendation 202 of 2012 however because of the wide variety of possible schemes and techniques that can be employed to administer them there is a genuine risk that important values relating to social protection will be overlooked in implementing the recommendation this collection of expert essays contains an in depth clarification and analysis of the recommendation and sets forth a clear and practicable set of principles that can be used both as a policy tool and as an assessment framework for the creation maintenance and supervision of a national social protection floor this book pays detailed attention to each of the recommendation s key principles including the following state responsibility universality of protection entitlement based in law adequacy and predictability of benefits non discrimination financial solidarity good governance coherence of policies and social participation a special feature of the book is its inclusion of case studies that display innovative social protection schemes focusing on children and families persons of working age particularly informal sector workers and elderly persons a concluding section offers useful insights on measures that can be taken and lessons learned as a deeply informed and practical guide to ways in which states can and do establish and maintain a social protection floor as a fundamental element of their national social protection systems this book has no peers it will be warmly welcomed by jurists concerned with social protection throughout the world by pertinent government agencies at all levels by non governmental organizations and by academics in the field this book gathers papers on interactive and collaborative mobile learning environments assessment evaluation and research methods in mobile learning mobile learning models theory and pedagogy open and distance mobile learning life long and informal learning using mobile devices wearables and the internet of things game based learning dynamic learning experiences mobile systems and services for opening up education mobile healthcare and training case studies on mobile learning and 5g network infrastructure today interactive mobile technologies have become the core of many if not all fields of society not only do the younger generation of students expect a mobile working and learning environment but also the new ideas technologies and solutions introduced on a nearly daily basis also boost this trend discussing and assessing key trends in the mobile field were the primary aims of the 13th international conference on interactive mobile communication technologies and learning imcl2019 which was held in thessaloniki greece from 31 october to 01 november 2019 since being founded in 2006 the conference has been devoted to new approaches in interactive mobile technologies with a focus on learning the imcl conferences have since become a central forum of the exchange of new research results and relevant trends as well as best practices the book s intended readership includes policymakers academics educators researchers in pedagogy and learning theory schoolteachers further education lecturers practitioners in the learning industry etc this book analyses black consciousness poetry and theatre from the 1970s through to the present south africa s literature like its history has been beset by disagreement and contradiction and has been consistently difficult to pin down as one united entity much existing criticism on south africa s national literature has attempted to overcome these divisions by discussing material written from a variety of different subject positions together this book argues that black consciousness desired a new south africa where african and european cultures were valued equally and writers could represent both as they wished thus a body of literature was created that addressed a range of audiences and imagined the south african nation in different ways this book explores black consciousness in order to demonstrate how south african writers have responded in various ways to the changing history and politics of their country this edited book attempts to foreground how challenges and complexities between policy and practice intertwine in the teaching and learning of the stem subjects in multilingual settings and how they policy and practice impact on educational processes developments and outcomes the unique feature of this book thus lies in its combination of not just language issues in the teaching and learning of the stem subjects but also in how these issues relate to policy and practice in multilingual contexts and how stem research and practice may inform and shape language policies and their implementation in multilingual contexts this book is of interest to stakeholders involved in stem education such as researchers undergraduate and graduate students tertiary level teachers teacher educators curriculum developers as well as other professionals with responsibilities in stem education subjects the book is written in a way that is accessible to a wide range of backgrounds including those who are in language education the contributions to this volume cover a broad range of issues in language policy that are hotly debated in every corner of the globe the articles included investigate the implications of language policies on the notion of language rights as the issues are played out in very specific circumstances from the courtroom in australia to the legislature in california to the educational system in england to the administrative practices of the european commission the authors explore conflicts between basic conceptions of fairness in justice administration and education on the one hand and political and economic realities on the other articles focus on language issues in the united states canada brazil england france slovakia russia sri lanka australia and several african states other articles consider the implications of new supranational agreements the european union nafta gatt the oau on language issues in the signatory states in sum the volume offers an extensive presentation of current issues and practices in language policy and linguistic human rights this book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 5th international conference on statistical language and speech processing slsp 2017 held in le mans france in october 2017 the 21 full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 39 submissions the papers cover topics such as anaphora and conference resolution authorship identification plagiarism and spam filtering computer aided translation corpora and language resources data mining and semanticweb information extraction information retrieval knowledge representation and ontologies lexicons and dictionaries machine translation multimodal technologies natural language understanding neural representation of speech and language opinion mining and sentiment analysis parsing part of speech tagging question and answering systems semantic role labeling speaker identification and verification speech and language generation speech recognition speech synthesis speech transcription speech correction spoken dialogue systems term extraction text categorization text summarization user modeling they are organized in the following sections language and information extraction post processing and applications of automatic transcriptions speech paralinguistics and synthesis speech recognition modeling and resources quarterly references to journal articles miscellaneous papers and books arranged under sections on archaeology ethnology linguistics and physical anthropology cross references cross index on sait que la littérature orale africaine comprend des contes des proverbes des épopées des mythes etc ce qu'on sait beaucoup moins c'est qu'elle déploie tout son génie dans la poésie d'une variété et d'une vivacité étonnantes parmi les genres poétiques il en est un qui frappe particulièrement l'attention par son caractère à la fois insolite et ostentatoire insolite parce qu'il s'inscrit dans un contexte où les règles de bienséance le proscrivent et ostentatoire en tant qu'expression publique de la personne il s'agit de l'éloge de soi qui implique nécessairement l'éloge d'autrui dans la mesure où il recourt abondamment à la généalogie et d'autres procédés qui concourent à resserrer les liens entre les individus l'éloge de soi ou autopanegyrique remplit souvent une fonction politique permettant à un individu ou un groupe de légitimer des droits ou d'asseoir une autorité il est aussi tout simplement un complément élogieux au nom propre de la personne mais il s'avère être également un instrument efficace de connaissance de soi et un aliment précieux de l'estime de soi dimension essentielle de la personne remplissant ainsi une fonction puissamment thérapeutique enfin il a aussi un caractère spirituel qui permet de relier les individus les uns aux autres l'individu à son environnement à sa source et à lui-même en tant qu'outil thérapeutique l'autopanegyrique est utile aussi bien pour les occidentaux que pour les africains confrontés pour des raisons diverses à des problèmes d'identité et soucieux d'accéder à un mieux ou un plus être en tant que voie spirituelle il est une méditation sur la vie et une méthode visant à l'amélioration de la personne qui devient ainsi un ferment pour une société meilleure on s'aperçoit que paradoxalement il est l'expression d'une profonde modestie le succès des ateliers d'autolouange est bien une preuve de la pertinence de cet art merveilleux this volume explores the multiple meanings and implications of lobola in southern africa the payment of lobola often controversially translated as bridewealth is an entrenched practice in most societies in southern africa although having a long tradition of late there have been voices questioning its relevance in contemporary times while others vehemently defend the practice this book brings together a range of scholars from different academic disciplines national contexts institutions genders and ethnic backgrounds to debate the relevance of lobola in contemporary southern african communities for gender equality this book is about the design of a setswana corpus for lexicography while various corpora have been compiled and a variety of corpora based research has been attempted in african languages no effort has been made towards corpus design additionally although extensive analysis of the setswana language has been done by missionaries grammarians and linguists since the 1800s none of this research is in corpus design most research has been largely on the grammatical study of the language the recent corpora research in african languages in general has been on the use of corpora for the compilation of dictionaries and little of it is in corpus design pioneers of this kind of corpora research in african languages are prinsloo and de schryver 1999 de schryver and prisloo 2000 and 2001 and gouws and prisloo 2005 because of a lack of research in corpora design particularly in african languages this book attempts to fill that gap especially for setswana it is hoped that the finding of this study will inspire similar designs in other languages comparable to setswana we explore corpus design by focusing on measuring a variety of text types for lexical richness at comparable token points the study explores the question of whether a corpus compiled for lexicography must comprise a variety of texts drawn from different text types or whether the quality of retrieved information for lexicographic purposes from a corpus comprising diverse text varieties could be equally extracted from a corpus with a single text type this study therefore determines whether linguistic variability is crucial in corpus design for lexicography this book draws on both in and out of school literacy practices with teachers and families to enhance the numeracy of early learners it provides highly illustrative exemplars targeted for learners up to approximately eight years of age whose home language differs from the language of instruction it identifies the challenges faced by these learners and their families and shares ways of building both literacy and numeracy skills for some of the vulnerable learners nationally and internationally the book shares the outcomes and strategies for teaching mathematics to early years learners and highlights the importance of literacy practices for learners for whom the language of instruction is different from their home language readers will gain a practical sense of how to create contexts classrooms and practices to scaffold these learners to build robust understandings of mathematics includes a general index an author index and a language index the term maya in indian traditions refers to our sensory perception of the world and as such to a superficial reality or an reality that we must look beyond to find the inner reality of things applied to the study of language we perceive sounds a superficial reality and then we seek structures the underlying reality in what we call phonology morphology and syntax this volume starts with an introduction by the editors which shows how the various papers contained in the volume reflect the spectrum of research interests of andrea calabrese as well as his influence on the work of colleagues and his students contributors united in their search for the abstract structures that underlie the appearances of languages include linguists such as adriana belletti paola benincà jonathan bobaljik guglielmo cinque david embick mirko grimaldi harry van der hulst michael kenstowicz maria rita manzini andrew nevins elizabeth pyatt luigi rizzi leonardo savoia laura vanelli bert vaux susi wurmbrand as well as a few junior researchers including mariachiara berizzi giuliano bocci stefano canalis silvio cruschina irina monich beata moskal diego pescarini joseph perry roberto petrosino and kobey schwayder this strategy paper has been developed in the context of un habitat s safer cities programme and the new partnership for africa s development nepad it forms part of un habitat s work on urbanization the inclusive city the problems of urban youth and issues of governance and youth participation it is in keeping with the millennium development goal of achieving a significant improvement in the lives of urban slum dwellers by 2020 in this volume a range of authors from different international contexts argue that the notion of communicative competence in english hitherto largely referenced to metropolitan native speaker norms has to be expanded to take account of diverse contexts of use for a variety of purposes it also discusses the popular belief that language and literacy should simply be regarded as a technical skill which confers universal benefits and that it should be replaced with a social practice view that recognises situated variations and diversity this volume we believe provides a reference point for extended research and practice in these areas that will be of interest to wide range of people engaged in language and literacy education accommodation of population diversity is a vital issue for any multinational society the legacy of apartheid in south africa complicates this effort considerably henrard introduces a theoretical framework regarding how to accommodate minority protection in the most appropriate way and analyzes the respective contributions of individual rights minority rights and the right to self determination subsequent chapters examine the case study of post apartheid south africa and attempt to investigate its constitutional development henrard finds that provisions within the 1996 constitution do acknowledge an interrelation between these three important factors however implementation of minority protection policy is often quite a different matter in seeking appropriate means of minority protection this study stresses inclusionism integration and the essential right to identity and real equality while henrard reviews and discusses the entire democratic transformation process in south africa she cautions that because current developments are characterized by their unsettled nature major transformation and flux analysis of the implementation phase can be only indicative the apartheid history does not in itself inhibit progressive stances on this important issue still despite the promising nature of the 1996 constitution the picture that emerges in terms of policy development aimed at minority protection is ambivalent on sait que la littérature orale africaine comprend des contes des proverbes des épopées des mythes etc ce qu on sait beaucoup moins c est qu elle déploie tout son génie dans la poésie d une variété et d une vivacité étonnantes parmi les genres poétiques il en est un qui frappe particulièrement l attention par son caractère à la fois insolite et ostentatoire insolite parce qu'il s'inscrit dans un contexte où les règles de bienséance le proscrivent et ostentatoire en tant qu'expression publique de la personne il s'agit de l'éloge de soi qui implique nécessairement l'éloge d'autrui dans la mesure où il recourt abondamment à la généalogie et d'autres procédés qui concourent à resserrer les liens entre les individus l'éloge de soi ou autopanegyrique remplit souvent une fonction politique permettant à un individu ou un groupe de légitimer des droits ou d'asseoir une autorité il est aussi tout simplement un complément élogieux au nom propre de la personne mais il s'avère être également un instrument efficace de connaissance de soi et un aliment précieux de l'estime de soi dimension essentielle de la personne remplissant ainsi une fonction puissamment thérapeutique enfin il a aussi un caractère spirituel qui permet de relier les individus les uns aux autres l'individu à son environnement à sa source et à lui-même en tant qu'outil thérapeutique l'autopanegyrique est utile aussi bien pour les occidentaux que pour les africains confrontés pour des raisons diverses à des problèmes d'identité et soucieux d'accéder à un mieux ou un plus être en tant que voie spirituelle il est une méditation sur la vie et une méthode visant à l'amélioration de la personne qui devient ainsi un ferment pour une société meilleure on s'aperçoit que paradoxalement il est l'expression d'une profonde modestie le succès des ateliers d'autolouange est bien une preuve de la pertinence de cet art merveilleux this book is about the design of a setswana corpus for lexicography while various corpora have been compiled and a variety of corpora based research has been attempted in african languages no effort has been made towards corpus design additionally although extensive analysis of the setswana language has been done by missionaries grammarians and linguists since the 1800s none of this research is in corpus design most research has been largely on the grammatical study of the language the recent corpora research in african languages in general has been on the use of corpora for the compilation of dictionaries and little of it is in corpus design pioneers of this kind of corpora research in african languages are prinsloo and de schryver 1999 de schryver and prisloo 2000 and 2001 and gouws and prisloo 2005 because of a lack of research in corpora design particularly in african languages this book attempts to fill that gap especially for setswana it is hoped that the findings of this study will inspire similar designs in other languages comparable to setswana we explore corpus design by focusing on measuring a variety of text types for lexical richness at comparable token points the study explores the question of whether a corpus compiled for lexicography must comprise a variety of texts drawn from different text types or whether the quality of retrieved information for lexicographic purposes from a corpus comprising diverse text varieties could be equally extracted from a corpus with a single text type this study therefore determines whether linguistic variability is crucial in corpus design for lexicography
