Questions and Answers for Marine Engineers

2013 excerpt from roper s questions and answers for stationary and marine engineers and electricians with a chapter on what to do in case of accidents of course it would be impossible in a book of this kind to cover all of the questions that might confront an applicant on examination and the authors have confined themselves to the more im portant subjects and selected such questions as in their judgment would on the one hand give a fair test of the knowledge of the applicant and on the other a well prepared engineer should be capable of answering about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
