approach of the papers and the exam style questions practise answering questions by writing straight into the book just as you would in an exam perfect your responses with targeted hints guidance and support for every question including fully worked solutions not sure where to start with a question or keen to avoid those common pitfalls check out the support in the margin of every question for hints tips and insights from experienced teachers along with links to further topic coverage in the revision guide this book offers a comprehensive empirical analysis of educational inequalities and their consequences on individual labour market outcomes for men and women in france and germany two countries with different education systems using microdata of either country the analyses mainly rely on econometric methods after a detailed comparison of the french and the german education systems the social determinants of school and post school attainment are analysed then the extent to which education reduces the unemployment risk is examined distinguishing between risk of entering unemployment unemployment duration and recurrence of unemployment episodes finally evidence is given on the impact of education on individual earnings prospects narratives of qualitative research uses a novel form of writing about how to do qualitative research called a praxis narrative each narrative is told from the author s perspective in carrying out one of his past research studies in the social sciences told chronologically and in a first person voice the narratives position the reader alongside the narrator so as to vicariously experience how research happens in its situated particulars rather than a set of idealizations and universalized pronouncements the authors reveals what really goes on when one is in the thick of complex and challenging research studies the points of trouble along with the successes this will be relevant to researchers who have already undertaken one or more empirical research studies though not necessarily using qualitative approaches and now find themselves facing something new a new analytic method a new theoretical lens a new form of data collection a new domain of research questions a new rhetorical approach this requires letting go of the secure handholds of prescribed methods and responding to the contingencies that arise in the midst of the research the reader is invited to follow along as the author makes visible his praxis of qualitative research unlike more conventional texts in this unique alternative the reader can follow the author s journey through his research studies as a way to reorient their conception of qualitative research and their own praxis of it this is fascinating reading for qualitative researchers and students taking qualitative research courses across the social sciences education and behavioural sciences this volume presents a scholarly conversation about education in troubled times across different temporal and spatial contexts the concept of troubled times in this book refers to situations of serious challenges or crises that affect the practice of education at community national and global levels it examines how education operates across a wide range of challenging circumstances from the covid 19 pandemic political manipulations and the neoliberal economy to conflict and post conflict situations the volume also considers the measures national governments should take to contain and mitigate their effects and how effective these measures are in curbing ~~educational~~ technical challenges by addressing these questions it also suggests ways to overcome the identified challenges and crises in their respective contexts bringing together the voices of a diverse group of scholars and language professionals this edited collection concerned with the cultivation of plurilingualism in multilingual educational settings builds on the theory and practice of linguistic and cultural mediation both as curricular content and social practice the chapters view mediation as an important aspect of communication which involves dynamic purposeful interactivity implicating social agents in the negotiation and construction of socially situated meanings across different languages and within the same language theoretically informed chapters present views on mediation as well as contributors research and project outcomes in educational interventions they also describe how mediation has been incorporated in educational practices and how it materialises in social contexts ultimately this book makes the case for why mediation constitutes a key competence to be developed for active global and local citizenry in today s societies where there is an increased rate of knowledge acquisition and exchange presenting research from classrooms and other multilingual environments this book offers concrete suggestions for the development of language users learners ability to mediate within and across languages it will appeal to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of language and education education policy and politics bilingualism and plurilingualism more generally curriculum designers may also find the volume of use with the rapid globalization of higher education as well as related changes in social political economic and other conditions over the last 25 years there have been ever increasing expectations for higher education in general and engineering education in particular these expectations are often expressed in terms of the need for quality assurance locally regionally and globally in some cases there is a long tradition of independence and self regulation of higher education institutions and programs in other contexts there has been considerable governmental regulation and disciplinary direction over time the authors in this volume represent essentially all continents and 15 different countries the common issues that they raise and their accounts of past present and future challenges provide a snapshot of the current state of quality assurance in higher education and engineering education this volume begins with an overview of the history and background of quality assurance in higher education and engineering education over the last century the discussion of the historical philosophical political and social background of quality assurance sets the stage for the other chapters following this broad brush stroke introduction in the next part of the book authors describe the general issues and challenges facing quality assurance in the twenty first century from both regional and national perspectives these authors have extensive experience in the area of quality assurance and have observed its growth and develop first hand over many years narratives of qualitative research uses a novel form of writing about how to do qualitative research called a praxis narrative each narrative is told from the author's perspective in carrying out one of his past research studies in the social sciences told chronologically and in a first person voice the narratives position the reader alongside the narrator so as to vicariously experience how research happens in its situated particulars rather than a set of idealizations and universalized pronouncements the author reveals what really goes on when one is in the thick of complex and challenging research studies the points of trouble along with the successes this will be relevant to researchers who have already undertaken one or more empirical research studies though not necessarily using qualitative approaches and now find themselves facing something new a new analytic method a new theoretical lens a new form of data collection a new domain of research questions a new rhetorical approach this requires letting go of the secure handholds of prescribed methods and responding to the contingencies that arise in the midst of the research the reader is invited to follow along as the author makes visible his praxis of qualitative research unlike more conventional texts in this unique alternative the reader can follow the author's journey through his research studies as a way to reorient their conception of qualitative research and their own praxis of it this is fascinating reading for qualitative researchers and students taking qualitative research courses across the social sciences education and behavioural sciences

Looking into Special Education
