through a careful psychological re reading of the qur an and other biographical sources about muhammad the author identifies the pathological symptoms of the prophet of islam his diagnosis is unambiguous the man suffered from a querulous paranoia with dissociative identity disorder the author shows that mohammed identified himself with previous prophets jesus and moses in particular whom he plagiarized adapting their words and deeds to the culture of the arab world he imposed these new doctrines on his people primarily through direct aggression and political manipulation yet islam was phenomenally successful during his lifetime and over the centuries at this point another question arises how did muhammad manage to convince the masses the author then analyzes the personality of the submissive people and the success of this religion through the centuries the author also deconstructs all the scientific and philosophical presuppositions behind the muslim religion cosmology biology psychology etc muhammad s moral and political discourse is confronted with its own contradictions frédéric joi is the author of jésus était il fou max milo doctor of psychology and professor of philosophy he proposes a psychological analysis and a philosophical criticism of the founders of religion based in particular on the theories of freud and nietzsche

the book proves the absurdity of the koran and the prophetship of mohammed it substantiates that the koran is saturated with illogical and mendacious absurdities that cannot be believed the goal of mohammed was to gain power by pretending prophethood he founded islam by the dint of sword and prompted the nomads of arabia to islam by plundering the properties of those who rejected islam thus islam is founded on the bases of terrorism and bloodshed no one can disbelieve that allah the god of islam represents himself as a deceitful entity an avenger subduer tyrant killer and so on the verses of the koran openly encourage islamic followers to mercilessly kill non muslims allah also disavows pacifists but promises to help those who fight in his name non muslims are unclean and should not be loved muslims who befriend infidels can no longer be considered muslims opponents of allah and his apostle should be mutilated executed and crucified mohammed said paradise is under the shadow of swords mohammed ordered his opponents to be murdered inhumanly allah permitted mohammed to commit any crime against his opponents in brief the koran is actually a manual for terrorism and hadith is the terrorist manifesto of islam recent events have demonstrated that one of the most important fields of study in this century is world order the contribution of this book to this field is that it attempts to lay the intellectual foundations for a reconsideration of what constitutes a truly islamic world order perhaps the words of the late professor ismail al faruqi in his scholarly introduction to this work best describes the landmarks of such an order the world order of islam would confer upon every person by virtue of birth and humanity the ultimate right and honor namely the capacity to think and make up one's mind as to which millah one wishes to belong and hence by which law one desires to order one's life and that of one's dependents in dealing with his subject the author has had to return to the sources of islam the qur'an and the sunnah and develop a methodology for dealing with them in a creative and practicable manner in doing so he examines the methodology developed by the early generations of muslim scholars and finds it limited by its legalistic approach thus much of the value of his work lies in its discussion of methodology and in the social sciences in general by means of methodology developed from a purely islamic perspective originally submitted as a doctoral dissertation and then revised for its publication in 1987 as the islamic theory of international relations this edition retitled towards an islamic theory of international relations has undergone serious editorial revision and may now be seen to convey the author's pioneering ideas in a way that befits their importance
