market research guide to the infotech industry a tool for strategic planning competitive intelligence employment searches or financial research contains trends statistical tables and an industry glossary includes one page profiles of infotech industry firms which provides data such as addresses phone numbers executive names sometimes it seems as if business exists purely to enrich a small elite while the world is facing unprecedented challenges it appears that businesses are only interested in making profits or paying bonuses big businesses are powerful machines we all know they have the potential to cause enormous social and environmental harm but with their resources and expertise they can also be great engines of positive change rather than fighting the power of business should we be seeking to harness it everybody s business is a journey through the business world we meet the companies that are driving business forward by mobilising to tackle the challenges we all face at its heart this is a story of businesses doing what they do best delivering products and services that people need creating jobs and finding new ways to solve old problems it s a story of people taking the initiative and finding inspiration in the positive impact of their actions we see how some of today s leading companies are realising that lasting success comes from having a purpose broader than making a profit they know that business should benefit customers employees suppliers neighbours and the wider world as well as shareholders enduring value comes from making business work for everybody xaas everything as a service the lean and agile approach to business growth takes the reader into the bold new world of pay per use for a product or service from the perspective of the customer the servitization model yields multiple benefits the consumer can try out the product service at a relatively low cost the risk is mitigated capital expenses can be converted into operating expenses it is not needed to forecast how often the product service is used and only parts of the product service needed can be used similarly a provider can benefit by having a larger market coverage steadier stream of revenues upgrades as and when needed sharing of fixed assets across consumers practicing of value based pricing and unbundling or bundling utility for consumers using appropriate pricing techniques however this nanoization of products services is tricky and has to be designed carefully this book provides a set of recipes to providers to adopt the xaas model by changing the provider s mindset dividing the product service forces the provider to take a value driven approach to his product service and consequently eliminate all non value added activities the requirements of the xaas model serve both as an objective to the innovation and internal processes of the provider and as guide to understanding the customer s needs the book also covers data acquisition data analysis and synthesis and data application needs of the xaas model with simple examples and case studies from the business world of firms that achieve these objectives successfully this book uses primary evidence to assess the value of agro input and service delivery business models in terms of their inclusiveness effectiveness and impact from a small farmer perspective in the form of case studies in three indian states punjab bihar and uttar pradesh the services discussed include custom rental of farm machinery and equipment franchising for backward and forward linkage for farmers and the supermarkets for delivery of farm inputs and extension services the book examines agro input and service delivery business models as institutional innovations for inclusive and effective delivery of such services in the small farmer context based on primary data from the agencies designing and implementing such models and the farmers who make use of these inputs and services further it identifies major issues and challenges in the delivery of farm inputs and services across regions and types of farmers and examines possible policy and enabling provisions to promote cost effective and high quality agro input delivery channels globality primarily involves large western corporations expanding their operations and moving aggressively into new overseas markets globality radically defines a post globalization world where companies from india china russia eastern europe brazil and mexico are expanding beyond their home base entering and building new markets creating whole industries and competing for customers resources market share and attention in short the tide has turned as a result western companies need to understand these emerging new businesses and the economies they come from in order to stay ahead and stay alive demand for mechanization in nigeria is growing in a fairly consistent way predicted by economic theories the farming system has intensified and the use of animal traction has grown at a substantial rate demand side factors considerably explain the low adoptions of tractors in nigeria where demand is sufficient for tractors the private sector has emerged over time as a more efficient provider of hiring services particularly farmer tofarmer services than the public sector conditions are consistent with the hypotheses that because of generally low support for the agricultural sector in nigeria in the past few decades agricultural mechanization tractor use in particular has remained low despite the declining share of the workforce engaged in the agricultural sector agricultural transformation in the form of a declining agricultural labor force has happened partly through the growth in the oil industry since the 1970s instead of inducing further exit from farming tractor adoptions in nigeria might have helped those who have remained in farming to start expanding their production scale a knowledge gap however still remains regarding the dominance of large tractors and the potential effects of tractor adoptions on smallholders who have yet to adopt them agricultural mechanization in africa south of the sahara especially for small farms and businesses requires a new paradigm to meet the needs of the continent s evolving farming systems can asia with its recent success in adopting mechanization offer a model for africa an evolving paradigm of agricultural mechanization development analyzes the experiences of eight asian and five african countries the authors explore crucial government roles in boosting and supporting mechanization from import policies to promotion policies to public good policies potential approaches presented to facilitating mechanization in africa include prioritizing market led hiring services eliminating distortions and developing appropriate technologies for the african context the role of agricultural mechanization within overall agricultural and rural transformation strategies in africa is also discussed the book s recommendations and insights should be useful to national policymakers and the development community who can adapt this knowledge to local contexts and use it as a foundation for further research sgn the tnpSC exam pdf tamilnadu combined engineering its determinants on both the demand and supply sides as well as impacts on agricultural production and associations with broader economic transformation processes in order to draw lessons that can be conveyed to other less mechanized countries mechanization levels in nepal a largely agricultural country were relatively low until a few decades ago however significant mechanization growth including the adoption of tractors has occurred since the 1990s against a backdrop of rising rural wages particularly for plowing combined with growing emigration and growth in key staple crop yields and overall broad agricultural production growth as well as improved market access and participation this growth in mechanization has taken place despite the general absence of direct government support or promotion the growth of tractor use in the plains of the terai zone has transformed agricultural production rather than inducing labor movement out of agriculture raising overall returns to scale in intensification and enabling the cultivation of greater areas by medium smallholders than by resource poor smallholders tractors have also facilitated the intensification of crop production per unit of land among very small farmers enabling mechanization growth despite the continued decline in farm size although these farmers may not have benefited as much as medium smallholders potential future research areas with policy relevance include mitigating accessibility constraints to tractor custom hiring services identifying appropriate regulatory policies for mechanization and providing complementary support to some smallholders who may not fully benefit from tractor adoption alone multinationals from brazil russia india and china known as the bric countries are a new and powerful characterizes the network of tractor service providers in ghana using the case of ejura sekye dumase district this research examines the implications of the adoption of mechanical technology in agriculture for farmers and institutions based on perspectives that go beyond the suppliers and users of mechanization services alone the results suggest that in addition to rising population density and favorable access to local and regional markets the current pattern of use of tractors by farmers in ejura district emerged from favorable historical and institutional factors the current arrangement involving a network of private tractor owners providing tractor hire services to a broad set of farmers draws upon the legacy of an earlier institutional intervention and is sustained organizationally through kinship and other existing social relationships within and outside the district more over the expansion of tractor use has created a set of new roles and relationships within the network participation in the network is affected by various factors including farmers access to capital and knowledge experience and contacts this privately operated network is significantly more efficient and provides small scale farmers with considerably better access to plowing service than did previous government managed systems further development of the tractor service sector is likely to improve the quality of mechanization offered to smallholder farmers enhance bargaining power for farmers seeking such services and reduce structural weaknesses within the network the book indian
