american higher education historically and inherently is a morally formative endeavor yet in order to respond to america s moral pluralism higher education has increasingly taken a reductionistic approach to moral formation consequently it abandoned the effort to supply students with moral expertise current approaches help students learn how to be excellent professionals and citizens but they fail to provide the necessary tools for living the good life in college and beyond identity excellence a theory of moral expertise for higher education addresses this problem by setting forth a multi disciplinary theory of moral expertise for fostering moral excellence in an array of important identities to this end it teases apart the essential elements of what it means to be excellent in an identity before discussing the philosophical sociological psychological and educational processes necessary for students to internalize traditions of identity excellence as part of their own moral identities overall the emergent theory exposes the shortcomings in contemporary general education professional ethics and co curricular education finally this book sets forth a bold but compelling vision for a more hopeful future for american higher education as outlined within such education involves teaching students excellence in the great identities as well as how to prioritize and integrate their pursuit of identity excellence
