The Walk: My Journey of Survival of the Japanese Military Occupation of Manila 2016-10-14

i was invited by the bataan historical society to be part of a panel asked to present our life experiences during wwii in the philippines i came to a realization that i always found it difficult to write about the war from the time we were liberated in 1945 from the clutches of the japanese military i would jot down notes about incidents i recalled the thoughts in these notes were usually without beginnings or endings then i would get rid of them not knowing why they seemed important at the time when i was teaching tagalog at berkeley i found myself rewriting those beginnings in the tagalog language i was surprised to find myself producing streams of thoughts that had coherent beginnings and endings all of them were about the war i realized that the filipino side of me was the active speaker i am half anglo american and half filipina what did the filipina side have that made her able to speak i have decided it is time to write about that of which i had not been aware can a man disappear forever and build himself a new life or will his past catch up with him follow this 10 part serial throughout 2015 featuring ethan aka slapshot a hockey player whose life is ruined forcing him to disappear forever ethan joins underground a black ops organization and is trained as a deadly operative there he meets ciana a woman with a dark past of her own as ethan and his underground colleagues embark on dangerous missions worldwide he finds a new purpose in life off the grid underground 1 the seemingly impossible has happened the unthinkable those i trusted most have betrayed me i m a hockey player and gave control of my finances to my parents so i could concentrate on my game big mistake they stole from me bankrupted me in fact and then someone came looking for money i don t have and i made a terrible mistake one that will haunt me forever but now someone has found me and offered a new start i would no longer be a hockey player i wouldn t even be an actual person totally off the grid i d be a shadow fighting crime for an organization that s underground literally do i want that life if i go back what kind of life would i have probably one in prison orange the choice to join underground is painful but necessary as my hockey coach always said though pain is weakness leaving the body i will not be powerless ever again creating slapshot underground 2 i ve left my old life behind and officially joined underground it appears no one knows where i am or even if i m still alive i don t know how i feel about that my friends thinking i m dead leaves a hole in my heart but i ll drive myself crazy if i obsess about it so rather than allowing myself to wallow in self pity or anger about what s happened i m throwing all my energy into training you would think that whole elite athlete thing would make everything easier but all these new techniques i need to master hand to hand combat weapons training surveillance procedures are kicking my ass for my whole life i ve only had one identity ethan hockey player now that sense of self is gone forever slowly being replaced by my new identity slapshot surreal doesn t even begin to describe this transformation but the more i find out about the world around me the problems i ignored for the most part as i played a game for an obscene amount of money the more i want to make a difference this is not a game it s real life and i have the chance to be a hero it s going to take everything i have or have left to do it initiation by fire underground 3 i have my first assignment helping track down a man targeting cuban bodegas and then using an automatic rifle to massacre all those inside after they re attacked by a cuban gang and his wife is killed underground is tasked with figuring out who this dangerous man is and stopping him before he goes on another rampage it s the first time i ve seen underground in action and i have to admit it s exciting i feel that adrenaline rush i used to get right before i hit the ice and i loved that satisfied feeling of knowing i helped find justice for all the innocent people the man has murdered
