started to take different views others liked Emily's strange relationship with the unicorn but Mr Grumbleton the mayor of the town saw Stardust as nothing more than a show that he could use to make money Mr Grumbleton came up with a sneaky plan where he pretended to be friends with Emily and said that Stardust earned a big palace in a place no one knew about Emily was able to see through his lie because she was able to trust her gut she also said that what made Stardust happy wasn't their money or fame but their true friendship with each other Emily didn't back down and with the help of the other locals she was able to stop Mr Grumbleton's plans for Stardust greed and dishonesty were defeated because the people were able to work together and always love each other the community grew and thrived because it was a place of magic that honored the strange things that happened every day Stardust became a sign of hope and wonder that could inspire anyone who came in touch with it Emily grew up to be a wise and skilled leader who supported others to be themselves and shared her own Stardust was a much-loved travel partner who brought happiness everywhere they went as word got around about extraordinary things as the story ends the world will remember Emily Stardust and the win over Mr Grumbleton's lie the village is still a place where people dream where the unique are honored and where love and unity are the most important feelings the story is a timely reminder of the power of love the strength of resilience and the idea that everyone has the power to do amazing things within themselves it inspires us to accept the magic that is uniquely ours and to rekindle the flame of wonder that burns deep in our souls we do this because we know that real connections and the pursuit of the extraordinary can change the direction of our lives in a big way even when things are hard the story starts once upon a time a young girl named Emily lived in a nice town with green hills all around it she was a young woman who was interested and kind Emily's excitement was like an ember that burned brightly inside her and it shone through like a flaming ember from a young age she was very interested in learning about the mysteries of nature and had a strong desire to do so it was almost as if she could talk to the animals and understand what they were saying even if they didn't speak Emily listened carefully tuned in to the quiet music of nature whether it was the rustle of leaves or the song of birds Emily's exciting adventure was just getting started as she went deeper into the woods and through the fields the tall trees with their branches reaching out like greeting arms told old tales she would move through the emerald-colored maze keeping her eyes steady and focused as she looked around as Emily explored this wild and beautiful place she felt a strong link to the animals who lived there animals would come out of hiding when they smelled her kind soul they were pulled by some unknown force she would smile as she watched the beautiful dance of butterfly wings the bright colors on the wings of the butterflies matched the happiness she felt in her heart she would catch a glimpse of a group of deer off in the distance their thin bodies blending in perfectly with the light coming down through the tree cover above them Emily's love for animals was endless and it was much more than just liking how cute they were she was just as interested in animals that some people might think are weird or even dangerous she was amazed by how skillfully and accurately a spider wove its web and she thought the decorations on the web were beautiful snakes had a special appeal for her with their slithering bodies and beautiful wriggling their mysterious presence captured her mind and held a special place in her heart Emily's senses became more alert as she explored the area so she could pick up on even the smallest signs of life as she went deeper into the woods she could tell the difference between the tiny tracks a mouse left behind in the woods and the food scraps a fox left behind after eating no matter how big or small the touch was it made her feel awe and wonder emily liked to go out into the wide fields lay down on the tall grass and look up at the big sky she was amazed by the way birds wings carried them through the air emily was moved by how free they were so she imagined herself flying with them and feeling the thrill of flight her adventures didn't stop when the sun set they went on all night emily would sneak out of the house late at night and walk around on her tiptoes the soft light of the moon showing where she went she met creatures that only came out at night and she was fascinated by the world they lived in emily was stunned and amazed by the nighttime symphony going on all around her as a sad owl hoot broke the quiet emily's love for animals went beyond just watching them she was a friend to all living things and cared for them she was good at treating hurt birds and bringing them back to full health with just a touch when scared animals came to her for help she was a comforting presence she would calm their fears with a soothing voice and a loving hug emily found peace and happiness by being in the arms of mother nature her spirit could fly and the woods and fields she came to think of as her home were a great place for her love of animals to grow her special connection with nature was a blessing and a good reminder that all living things are linked and tied together by the threads of life that run through them emily was having fun by the sparkling stream when the sun's rays began to caress her red cheeks and dance across her face she was surrounded by nature's symphony with birds singing beautiful songs to everyone and everything in the world it was the kind of day where lots of things could happen and there were surprises but as emily's happy laughter filled the room she saw a sparkle that made her want to find out where it was coming from she got a warm feeling in the middle of her chest as an interest started to grow in her as she moved smoothly toward the tempting light she disappeared into a tangle of lush green plants emily went into the thicket and as she moved through its green trees it seemed to say something her heartbeat faster because she was excited about the possibility of finding something truly amazing the sound of leaves rustling under her feet and the feeling of twigs brushing against her skin led her in a strange way toward something she didn't quite understand emily then came out of the woods and into a small area with wide open eyes it seemed like everyone on the planet was holding their breath in front of her stood a figure that looked like it came straight out of a fairy tale it was so beautiful and magical it was a unicorn a legendary and magical creature that couldn't be put into any one realm just by being there its skin was so bright and shiny that it looked like newly dusted snow its beautiful neck was surrounded by a flowing mane that was as golden as the sun's rays on the top of its head was a single horn that shone with all the colors of the rainbow emily couldn't believe what she was seeing she stood there in shock and awe her heart racing with a mix of fear and joy she couldn't believe what she was seeing with her own eyes it seemed like fate had led her to this wonderful meeting with a great character at this exact moment emily was looked at by the unicorn who seemed to look at her with a caring and wise look in that split second they made a connection that went beyond both the extraordinary and the everyday parts of their own lives emily could feel that the unicorn was good at heart and that its soul was pure and wild emily took a step forward slowly and put out her hand her touch was soft and light like the wing of a butterfly when the unicorn saw that she was telling the truth it bowed its regal head and let her rub its soft nose emily was so happy it was like she had just found a long lost friend she didn't know she had she didn't know what she was doing emily's fingers touched the soft snout of the beautiful unicorn as she reached out with her hand trembling with both fear and excitement at that exact moment it seemed like time stopped it was as if the whole world was holding its breath waiting to see how the little boy and the legendary beast would interact the unicorn's wise looking eyes were quickly drawn to emily's good intentions it had been to places that humans couldn't understand and met a lot of different beings but no one else's touch was as soft and real as emily's at that very moment an invisible link was made and the threads of both of their souls were knit together as emily's fingers touched the unicorn's nose a wave of indescribable happiness ran through her body emily couldn't even start to say how she felt it was as if she had just woken up from a dream to find a long lost friend standing in front of her uncertainty and suspicion started to fade away and in their place came a strong feeling of being at home emily was happy so the unicorn nuzzled her hand and let out a scent that smelled like moonlit nights and flower filled fields at that moment emily felt a deep sense of peace as if she was meant to meet this beautiful creature and that the fact that they had crossed paths was a sign from god their connection went beyond the physical world and into the core of each of their beings it brought them together in ways that are hard to explain even though the unicorn was a magical creature that couldn't be tamed it saw in emily a similar spirit a guiding light of pure love and kindness and while she was with the unicorn emily found a source of power and motivation within herself that she had never found before from that day on emily and the unicorn were inseparable they ran into the world with their hearts joined and their spirits high every new thing they did together like laughing under the stars or talking about secrets while the leaves rustled made their bond stronger emily who used to be a child with big dreams felt comfortable and understood when she was with her new partner as she basked in the unicorn's magic she found a source of courage that helped her overcome the hurdles in her way they got through life's hard times together their souls intertwining like the delicate tendrils of ivy as they went emily's relationship with the unicorn gave them insight into the lives of the people they met on their journey the locals who were at first hesitant and uncertain saw how love and trust can change things they were amazed by emily's bright smile which lit up her whole face and by the look of wonder that flashed across her eyes the locals were able to let go of their doubts and open up to the magic that had been sleeping in their hearts because emily was kind and patient with them they learned that everyone has the ability to love care and accept others without limits this was a lesson that was taught to them by the special relationship between a child and a unicorn a book literary practitioner winner of the elizabeth agee prize in american literature the literary establishment tends to regard bob dylan as an intriguing if baffling outsider that changed overnight when dylan was awarded the 2016 nobel prize in literature challenging us to think of him as an integral part of our national and international literary heritage no one to meet imitation and originality in the songs of bob dylan places dylan the artist within a long tradition of literary production and offers an innovative way of understanding his unique and often controversial methods of composition in lucid prose raphael falco demonstrates the similarity between what renaissance writers called imitatio and the way dylan borrows digests and transforms traditional songs although dylan s lyrical postures might suggest a post romantic avant garde consciousness no one to meet shows that dylan s creative process borrows from and creatively expands the methods used by classical and renaissance authors drawing on numerous examples including dylan s previously unseen manuscript excerpts and archival materials raphael falco illuminates how the ancient process of poetic imitation handed down from greco roman antiquity allows us to make sense of dylan s musical and lyrical technique by placing dylan firmly in the context of an age old poetic practice no one to meet deepens our appreciation of dylan s songs and allows us to celebrate him as what he truly is a great writer examining the relationship between law environmental governance and the regulation of decision making this volume both reflective and 2015 made his mark as a journalist educator and writer having worked for newsweek ebony and jet magazines williams went on to write twelve novels and numerous works of nonfiction a vital link between the black arts movement and the previous era williams crafted works of fiction that relied on historical research as much as his own finely honed skills from the man who cried i am a roman à clef about expatriate african american writers in europe to clifford s blues a holocaust novel told in the form of the diary entries of a gay black jazz pianist in dachau these representations of black experiences marginalized from official histories make him one of our most important writers conversations with john a williams collects twenty three interviews with the three time winner of the american book award beginning with a discussion in 1969 of his early works and ending with a previously unpublished interview from 2005 gathered from print periodicals as well as radio and television programs these interviews address a range of topics including anti black violence williams s wwii naval service race and publishing interracial romance martin luther king jr growing up in syracuse the prix de rome scandal traveling in africa and europe and his reputation as an angry black writer the conversations prove valuable given how often williams drew from his own life and career for his fiction they display the integrity social engagement and artistic vision that make him a writer to be reckoned with debra clopton s four of hearts ranch romance series is now available as an e rarely accomplished in the world of popular music now in this complete life and times biography author will friedwald offers a new take on this fascinating musician framing him first as a bandleader and then as a star in cole s early phase friedwald explains his primary task of keeping his trio going was just as much of a focus for him as his own playing and singing always a collective or group performance in the second act cole s collaborators were more likely to be arranger conductors like nelson riddle and gordon jenkins rather than his sidemen on bass and guitar in the first act his sidemen were equals in the second phase his collaborators were tasked exclusively with putting the focus on him making him sound good while being largely invisible themselves friedwald brings his full this book compiles poems written by a person who believes that the sky is not the limit it never was it is an expression of the distance traveled by the words between the home built by the human race here and the interstellar forces swarming around the cosmos so the writer has nicely captured the words dipped in stardust and wisdom into beautiful poetries to make you envision beyond the mundane existence of daily life it will take you to places covered in the space dust that you have accumulated while traveling to different places in this milky way and beyond the poems will make you see that you are much more than the bones and blood and tissues and this world is much more than your eyes can see just like a spell the words in the poems might make you see the extraordinary you living under the human skin and also might set you in the direction which will take you to places that are left unseen and unnoticed by the analytical mind of yours these poems are more like chants that the writer happened to capture for you to read so that you have something to look upon the next time you look up in the sky it s for you to look at what is hiding in the upper layers of the atmosphere of this blue gem sometimes you just need the eyes to look at what s up there and if you don t have them even standing on the surface of the moon won t seem magical to you i hope these poems will give you that kind of light to your eyes the child who accidentally adopted a unicorn a short summary of this story emily was a young girl who loved animals and lived in a society that encouraged magic and wonder when she was out exploring the town she came across a beautiful horse named stardust they got along right away and then they went on many trips together which only made their friendship better as news of the unicorn spread people started to take different views others liked emily s strange relationship with the unicorn but mr grumbleton the mayor of the town saw stardust as nothing more than a show that he could use to make money mr grumbleton came up with a sneaky plan where he pretended to be friends with emily and said that stardust earned a big palace in a place no one knew about emily was able to see through his lie because she was able to trust her gut she also said that what made stardust happy wasn t their money or fame but their true friendship with each other emily didn t back down and with the help of the other locals she was able to stop mr grumbleton s plans for stardust greed and dishonesty were defeated because the people were able to work together and always love each other the community grew and thrived because it was a place of magic that honored the strange things that happened every day stardust became a sign of hope and wonder that could inspire anyone who came in touch with it emily grew up to be a wise and skilled leader who supported others to be themselves and shared her own stardust was a much loved travel partner who brought happiness everywhere they went as word got around about the settlement more and more people came to find refuge in the village s beauty the town became a shining example of sincerity and kindness as well as a place to recognize and honor people who do extraordinary things as the story ends the world will remember emily stardust and the win over mr grumbleton s lie the village is still a place where people dream where the unique are honored and where love and unity are the most important feelings the story is a timely reminder of the power of love the strength of resilience and the idea that everyone has the power to do amazing things within themselves it inspires us to accept the magic that is uniquely ours and to rekindle the flame of wonder that burns deep in our souls we do this because we know that real connections and the pursuit of the extraordinary can change the direction of our lives in a big way even when things are hard the story starts once upon a time a young girl named emily lived in a nice town with green hills all around it she was a young woman who was interested and kind emily s excitement was like an ember that burned brightly inside her and it shone through like a flaming ember from a young age she was very interested in learning about the mysteries of nature and had a strong desire to do so it was almost as if she could talk to the animals and understand what they were saying even if they didn t speak emily listened carefully tuned in to the quiet music of nature whether it was the rustle of leaves or the song of birds emily s exciting adventure was just getting started as she went deeper into the woods and through the fields the tall trees with their branches reaching out like greeting arms told old tales she would move through the emerald colored maze keeping her eyes steady and focused as she looked around as emily explored this wild and beautiful place she felt a strong link to the animals who lived there animals would come out of hiding when they smelled her kind soul they were pulled by some unknown force she would smile as she watched the beautiful dance of butterfly wings the bright colors on the wings of the butterflies matched the happiness she felt in her heart she would catch a glimpse of a group of deer off in the distance their thin bodies blending in perfectly with the light coming down through the tree cover above them emily s love for animals was endless and it was much more than just liking how cute they were she was just as interested in animals that some people might think are weird or even dangerous she was amazed by how skillfully and accurately a spider wove its web and she thought the decorations on the web were beautiful snakes had a special appeal for her with their slithering bodies and beautiful wriggling their mysterious presence captured her mind and held a special place in her heart emily s senses became more alert as she explored the area so she could pick up on even the smallest signs of life as she went deeper into the woods she could tell the difference between the tiny tracks a mouse left behind in the woods and the food scraps a fox left behind after eating no matter how big or small the touch was it made her feel awe and wonder emily liked to go out into the wide fields lay down on the tall grass and look up at the big sky she was amazed by the way birds wings carried them through the air emily was moved by how free they were so she imagined herself flying with them and feeling the thrill of flight her adventures didn t stop when the sun set they went on all night emily would sneak out of the house late at night and walk around on her tiptoes the soft light of the moon showing where she went she met creatures that only came out at night and she was fascinated by the world they lived in emily was stunned and amazed by the nighttime symphony going on all around her as a sad owl hoot broke the quiet emily s love for animals went beyond just watching them she was a friend to all living things and cared for them she was good at treating hurt birds and bringing them back to full health with just a touch when scared animals came to her for help she was a comforting presence she would calm their fears with a soothing voice and a loving hug emily found peace and happiness by being in the arms of mother nature her spirit could fly and the woods and fields she came to think of as her home were a great place for her love of animals to grow her special connection with nature was a blessing and a good reminder that all living things are linked and tied together by the threads of life that run through them emily was having fun by the sparkling stream when the sun s rays began to caress her red cheeks and dance across her face she was surrounded by nature s symphony with birds singing beautiful songs to everyone and everything in the world it was the kind of day where lots of things could happen and there were surprises but as emily s happy laughter filled the room she saw a sparkle that made her want to find out where it was coming from she got a warm feeling in the middle of her chest as an interest started to grow in her as she moved smoothly toward the tempting light she disappeared into a tangle of lush green plants emily went into the thicket and as she moved through its green trees it seemed to say something her heartbeat faster because she was excited about the possibility of finding something truly amazing the sound of leaves rustling under her feet and the feeling of twigs brushing against her skin led her in a strange way toward something she didn t quite understand emily then came out of the woods and into a small area with wide open eyes it seemed like everyone on the planet was holding their breath in front of her stood a figure that looked like it came straight out of a fairy tale it was so beautiful and magical it was a unicorn a legendary and magical creature that couldn t be put into any one realm just by being there its skin was so bright and shiny that it looked like newly dusted snow its beautiful neck was surrounded by a flowing mane that was as golden as the sun s rays on the top of its head was a single horn that shone with all the colors of the rainbow emily couldn t believe what she was seeing she stood there in shock and awe her heart racing with a mix of fear and joy she couldn t believe what she was seeing with her own eyes it seemed like fate had led her to this wonderful meeting with a great character at this exact moment emily was looked at by the unicorn who seemed to look at her with a caring and wise look in that split second they made a connection that went beyond both the extraordinary and the everyday parts of their own lives emily could feel that the unicorn was good at heart and that its soul was pure and wild emily took a step forward slowly and put out her hand her touch was soft and light like the wing of a butterfly when the unicorn saw that she was telling the truth it bowed its regal head and let her rub its soft nose emily was so happy it was like she had just found a long lost friend she didn t know she had she didn t know what she was doing emily s fingers touched the soft snout of the beautiful unicorn as she reached out with her hand trembling with both fear and excitement at that exact moment it seemed like time stopped it was as if the whole world was holding its breath waiting to see how the little boy and the legendary beast would interact the unicorn's wise looking eyes were quickly drawn to emily's good intentions it had been to places that humans couldn't understand and met a lot of different beings but no one else's touch was as soft and real as emily's at that very moment an invisible link was made and the threads of both of their souls were knit together as emily's fingers touched the unicorn's nose a wave of indescribable happiness ran through her body emily couldn't even start to say how she felt it was as if she had just woken up from a dream to find a long lost friend standing in front of her uncertainty and suspicion started to fade away and in their place came a strong feeling of being at home emily was happy so the unicorn nuzzled her hand and let out a scent that smelled like moonlit nights and flower filled fields at that moment emily felt a deep sense of peace as if she was meant to meet this beautiful creature and that the fact that they had crossed paths was a sign from god their connection went beyond the physical world and into the core of each of their beings it brought them together in ways that are hard to explain even though the unicorn was a magical creature that couldn't be tamed it saw in emily a similar spirit a guiding light of pure love and kindness and while she was with the unicorn emily found a source of power and motivation within herself that she had never found before from that day on emily and the unicorn were inseparable they ran into the world with their hearts joined and their spirits high every new thing they did together like laughing under the stars or talking about secrets while the leaves rustled made their bond stronger emily who used to be a child with big dreams felt comfortable and understood when she was with her new partner as she basked in the unicorn's magic she found a source of courage that helped her overcome the hurdles in her way they got through life's hard times together their souls intertwining like the delicate tendrils of ivy as they went emily's relationship with the unicorn gave them insight into the lives of the people they met on their journey the locals who were at first hesitant and uncertain saw how love and trust can change things they were amazed by emily's bright smile which lit up her whole face and by the look of wonder that flashed across her eyes the locals were able to let go of their doubts and open up to the magic that had been sleeping in their hearts because emily was kind and patient with them they learned that everyone has the ability to love care and accept others without limits this was a lesson that was taught to them by the special relationship between a child and a unicorn
