cultivating dynamic educators case studies in teacher behavior change in africa and asia responds to growing recognition by international education professionals policy makers and funding partners of the need for qualified teachers and interest in the subject of teacher professional development also referred to as teacher behavior change the book responds to important questions that are fundamental to improving teaching quality by influencing teaching practice these questions include how do we provide high quality training at scale how do we ensure that training transfers to change in practice what methods are most cost effective how do we know what works the book includes case studies describing different approaches to teacher behavior change and illustrates how specific implementation choices were made for each context individual chapters document lessons learned as well as methodologies used for discerning lessons the key conclusion is that no single effort is enough on its own teacher behavior change requires a system wide view and concerted coordinated inputs from a range of stakeholders in a news career spanning more than sixty years joseph c harsch was a firsthand witness to many of the great events of the twentieth century as a reporter and columnist for the christian science monitor and as a correspondent for all three of the major networks he became one of the most respected figures in the profession a mentor to a generation of journalists covering international affairs at the hinge of history is harsch s career autobiography what is most striking in this deftly rendered account is harsch s uncanny knack for being at the right place at the right time he was a reporter in washington when president hoover began to grasp the magnitude of the economic crisis that became known as the great depression while traveling to the soviet union in 1941 he arrived in hawaii just before the japanese attacked pearl harbor he was with general macarthur in australia on the occasion of the i shall return speech he reported from the liberated death camps in 1945 went behind the newly forged iron curtain in 1947 and 1949 and was stationed in london when certain postwar pressures tested the anglo american alliance throughout the book harsch reveals an overarching perspective that places major events in a larger historical context this is especially evident in the later chapters when he discussed the course of the cold war the role of ideology in the american view of china and the conduct of the vietnam war and the origins of the arab israeli conflict the book is filled with fascinating sketches of his encounters with such figures as president roosevelt general macarthur dean acheson walter lippmann and adlai stevenson on occasion harsch recalls events not recounted elsewhere and he frequently casts a new light on familiar ground in one eye opening chapter for example he describes the international effort in the 1930s to resettle european jews in angola an effort that collapsed when hitler invaded poland he provides a chilling firsthand recollection of the complacency and unpreparedness that preceded the pearl harbor bombing in still other chapters he relates his role in the capture of nazi leader albert speer and in the investigation following the mysterious murder in greece of his fellow correspondent george polk at once refreshingly direct and replete with self effacing irony at the hinge of history is a memorable testament to the personal qualities of its author to the art and science of journalism and to the tumultuous twentieth century
