exceptional mystery dr thorndyke is brought in to untangle the secrecy surrounding the death of john gillam a man not known for insanity and thoughts of suicide this remarkable work features the crimean war as depicted by the late victorian military writer james grant the material here was first published in 1894 only 40 years after the end of the crimean war at a time when many of the participants were still in their sixties grant therefore had access to the primary source interviews which are now lost forever originally published as part of the cassell s series british battles on land and sea it presents the reader with an intriguing insight into how contemporary writers addressed their subject they say the past is another country and that is certainly true in this instance the contrast between the contemporary victorian view and the modern view reveals the huge gulf in attitudes mr grant s work is clearly of its time and reflects the attitudes of the day which were unashamedly xenophobic jingoistic and militaristic it nonetheless repays the reader as it provides us with a unique window on the past and brings the long lost world of victorian imperialism into focus from the award winning author of eliza waite comes a gripping tale of adventure and survival based on the true story of the ill fated donner party on their 2 200 mile trek on the oregon california trail from 1846 to 47 nineteen year old ada weeks confronts danger and calamity along the hazard filled journey to california after a fateful decision that delays the overlanders more than a month she along with eighty one other members of the donner party finds herself stranded at truckee lake on the eastern side of the sierra nevada mountains stuck there for the entirety of a
