postmodernism is a notoriously elusive concept and still the object of critical debates among scholars across a range of different disciplines in literature in particular these debates are complicated by postmodern styles emanating from outside the concept s western origins by analyzing contemporary hindi novels and drawing on both western and hindi literary criticism postmodern traces and recent hindi novels aims to understand some of the manifestations of postmodernism in contemporary hindi fiction including ways the latter might challenge the traditional parameters of postmodern literature this book is essential reading for scholars and students specializing in south asian studies and both postcolonial and comparative literature it will also interest the general reader curious to know more about one of the less explored areas of world literature behind every crime novel there is a family the author s the hero s or the heroine s and that of the villains themselves some families organise themselves into crime syndicates controlling drugs prostitution and illegal gambling others are simply dysfunctional tearing themselves apart fathers against sons mothers against daughters sisters against brothers husbands against wives not everyone escapes alive however families do not exist in a vacuum they are an important part of our society for many one of its most essential building blocks that being said society itself can impinge disastrously on personal relationships war that greatest of crimes leaves children bereft of parents generations of children are stolen by cynical racist administrators in supposedly civilised countries religion requires its followers to flourish and multiply while abandoning all including family for their faith all of these issues and more are explored in this collection of essays about crime fiction and the family Family Relationships in Contemporary Crime Fiction 2021-11-25 the scholarly essays in this book open up experimental and novel spaces and genres beyond the traditional and the literary world of indian popular fiction as it existed towards the end of the last millennium they respond to the possibilities opened up by the technology driven and internet savvy reading and writing world of today contemporaneous and bold most of the essays resonate with the racy and fast paced milieu and social media space inhabited by today s youth combative in its drift this book makes possible an attempt to disband hierarchies and dismantle categories that have engulfed the expansive landscape of indian popular fiction for too long it facilitates discussion on graphic novels microfiction popular entertainment and political success it uncovers popular in its socio political and cultural contexts furthermore it investigates the vitality embedded in theory and praxis of popular forms and their insurrections in mutants and new age oeuvres and looks to examine the symbiotic bonds between the reader and the author as the latter articulates and perpetuates the needs of the former whose demands need continual fulfilment this constant metamorphosis of the popular fueled by neoliberalism and postmodernity along with the shifts in the publishing industry to more democratic reader driven genres is taken up here along with the millennial s fetish for romance humanized mythical retellings and the evergreen whodunnits as its natural soulmates the anthology delves into the interstices of indian popular with desi local traditions folk lore community consciousness and nation building please note this title is co published with aakar books new delhi taylor francis does not sell or distribute the hardback in india pakistan nepal bhutan bangladesh and sri lanka

□□□□□□□□ 2020-05-19 the present book is an addition to the study of arun joshi s novels in the context of the theme of the crisis of identity in the post modern world in the wake of colonial hangover economic depression psychological split up as well as existential angst and freedom of choice the major characters in joshi s novels find themselves in a predicament from which they find it difficult to get disentangled the one world is dead and the other powerless to be born the worldly affluence is not enough the escape from the outer world to the inner keeps one engaged bred on the western wife or mother exploring the inner psychological conflicts of a woman and making her women characters emerge as self dependent individuals with a space of one s own through her bunch of wonderful novels shashi deshpande aims to highlight that everyone in this society should be treated as equals as human beings there should not be any compartmentalization on the basis of gender women should be given equal opportunity and weightage at par with men this is possible only when women are independent in truest sense and they hold self reliance and self esteem as a writer of human beings in general and women in particular shashi deshpande has wonderfully considered all these aspects in her writings with her ingenious narrative skill and creative spirit this book has attempted to explore the journey of deshpande s protagonists in quest of an exclusive identity which has the essence of individuality and self confidence and which make them stand apart from the stereotypical tags given by traditional patriarchal society amidst hindrances and oppressions of various kinds how deshpande s women characters come out of their shell to carve a niche for themselves by utilizing their potential and willpower has formed the crux of the book comprehensive and analytical in nature the present book would prove an asset to students of english literature

The India Magazine of Her People and Culture 2014-03-20 he was among the galaxy of leaders who led india s struggle for independence it was c rajagopalachari who brought the voice of logic and reason to india s freedom movement and later its early years as an independent nation

□□□□ 1975 mulk raj anand the doyen of indian english fiction whose writing career spanned nearly four decades has carved out a permanent niche in the literary world anand s writings are marked by his fine perception of the indian ethos the sinister forces that operate in the indian society his humanitarian outlook and profound sympathy for the down trodden and the underprivileged his novels are thus faithful transcripts of and serious comments on the contemporary social reality the twelve insightful essays that constitute this volume not only shed new light on the old classics like untouchable coolie two leaves and a bud and the old woman and the cow but also deals with issues like despair and delight in the novels of mulk raj anand the identity crisis anand s creative exploitation of the linguistic resources of the english language his narrative technique his humanism his treatment of individuals as social constructs the symbiotic relationship between art and culture studies and other unexplored facets of anand s writings the detailed bibliography at the end serves as a useful research tool for the scholars studying anand the students of indian english literature would find this book immensely useful and also those who keep interest in the writings of anand would find the essays quite thought provoking and illuminating
