a landmark history of the antisemitic blood libel myth how it took root in europe spread with the invention of the printing press and persists today accusations that jews ritually killed christian children emerged in the mid twelfth century following the death of twelve year old william of norwich england in 1144 later continental europeans added a destructive twist jews murdered christian children to use their blood while charges that jews poisoned wells and desecrated the communion host waned over the years the blood libel survived initially blood libel stories were confined to monastic chronicles and local lore but the development of the printing press in the mid fifteenth century expanded the audience and crystallized the vocabulary images and facts of the blood libel providing a lasting template for hate tales of jews killing christians notably simon of trent a toddler whose body was found under a jewish house in 1475 were widely disseminated using the new technology following the paper trail across europe from england to italy to poland magda teter shows how the blood libel was internalized and how jews and christians dealt with the repercussions the pattern established in early modern europe still plays out today in 2014 the anti defamation league appealed to facebook to take down a page titled jewish ritual murder the following year white supremacists gathered in england to honor little hugh of lincoln as a sacrificial victim of the jews based on sources in eight countries and ten languages blood libel captures the long shadow of a pernicious myth

The Assault on the Rand the international petroleum industry has long been known the world over as a good old boys club and nowhere is the oil and gas industry's gender imbalance more apparent than offshore the untold story shared in these pages is about the women who have been among the first to inhabit this world and whose stories previously have been a missing part of the history of the industry as a ceo i believe it is imperative for today's generation of young women to realize there is a seat for them in the boards of oil gas companies as the glass ceiling can be broken quicker and easier than before reading this book they will think about these women who have gone before them and broken down those barriers in order to give them new opportunities maria moraeus hanssen ceo dea deutsche erdoel ag my belief is that diversity is key to both creativity and solid long term business results even in a country like norway where professional gender diversity is greater than in any other country i have had interactions with we have an underrepresentation of women in top management positions i would therefore like to express my appreciation to rebecca ponton for keeping this important subject on the agenda by presenting to us positive impressive and at the same time obtainable role models grethe k moen ceo and president petoro as as the industry now is more complex and faces more uncertainty women will be more important contributors especially in management and communication women could be just what is needed karen sund founder sund energy as everyone needs role models and role models that look like you are even better for women the oil and gas industry has historically been pretty thin on role models for young women to look up to rebecca ponton has provided an outstanding compilation of role models for all women who aspire to success in one of the most important industries of modern times dave payne chevron vp drilling completions learn more at breakingtheglassceiling.com from the world voices series at modernhistorypress.com
