this financial system stability assessment paper discusses that canada has enjoyed favorable macroeconomic outcomes over the past decades and its vibrant financial system continues to grow robustly however macrofinancial vulnerabilities notably elevated household debt and housing market imbalances remain substantial posing financial stability concerns various parts of the financial system are directly exposed to the housing market and or linked through housing finance the financial system would be able to manage severe macrofinancial shocks major deposit taking institutions would remain resilient but mortgage insurers would need additional capital in a severe adverse scenario housing finance is broadly resilient notwithstanding some weaknesses in the small non prime mortgage lending segment although banks overall capital buffers are adequate additional required capital for mortgage exposures along with measures to increase risk based differentiation in mortgage pricing would be desirable this would help ensure adequate through the cycle buffers improve mortgage risk pricing and limit procyclical effects induced by housing market corrections how the unaccountable unmonitorable and unchecked actions of regulators precipitated the global financial crisis and how to reform the system the recent financial crisis was an accident a perfect storm fueled by an unforeseeable confluence of events that unfortunately combined to bring down the global financial systems or at least this is the story told and retold by a chorus of luminaries that includes timothy geithner henry paulson robert rubin ben bernanke and alan greenspan in guardians of finance economists james barth gerard caprio and ross levine argue that the financial meltdown of 2007 to 2009 was no accident it was negligent homicide they show that senior regulatory officials around the world knew or should have known that their policies were destabilizing the global financial system and yet chose not to act until the crisis had fully emerged barth caprio and levine propose a reform to counter this systemic failure the establishment of a sentinel to provide an informed expert and independent assessment of financial regulation its sole power would be to demand information and to evaluate it from the perspective of the public rather than that of the financial industry the regulators or politicians abstract summary frequent occurrence of software project failures has created two general streams of research one theme analyzed the common causes of cost overruns late schedules and unmet scope with the belief that project failures are avoidable through proactive means another group of researchers investigated software project risks with such intent comparative studies were conducted in finland hong kong and the united states subsequent research in nigeria determined the impact of the socioeconomic context to further extend the coverage of prior studies the research in the current study focused specifically on the canadian financial services sector project managers were solicited for input to discover determine and rank risk factors in software projects using the same research design that was used in previous comparative research studies a three phase delphi survey that uses nonparametric statistical techniques in sharp contrast to prior studies however this research aimed not for general applications of the results at the country level but for specific collective relevance to software projects in banks trust companies insurance companies mutual fund companies and similar organizations the composite rankings of the studies in hong kong finland and the united states listed lack of management commitment inability to get user commitment and misunderstanding of the requirements as the top three risk items in software projects given that only the misunderstanding of requirements made it into the top three risk items in nigeria it would be of value to scholars and practitioners to determine how the results would differ if the study was conducted in a specific sector in the industry except for one risk factor lack of dedicated full time project resources this study confirmed that the previous list of risk factors captured the top risk factors in the canadian financial services sector although the internationalization of the chinese renminbi is an important international political event most of the studies of it place their analytical focuses largely just on china itself the issuer of the currency in contrast this book addresses the question of how foreign states have responded to the renminbi s internationalization during its initial phase through the 2010s and thereby breaks new ground in exploring the international politics of currency internationalization it builds a theoretical framework for analyzing a state s policy toward renminbi internationalization developing the key concept of reactive currency statecraft it then applies this framework to the four select cases of the united kingdom japan south korea and the united states this book reveals that all four of these countries have deliberately utilized their policies related to renminbi internationalization as means of achieving their own foreign policy goals associated with china goals that have been principally economic in some cases but political in others remarkably the predominant mode of response to the renminbi s internationalization has been accommodative even the united states and japan china s chief geopolitical and also international currency rivals have never attempted to actively suppress it this study provides new insights to anyone concerned with the transformation of the world monetary order while also contributing a valuable analysis of the international politics surrounding the rise of china
