CIE IGCSE Chinese 0547 2020 Listening Set 2 1953 back when sos or adam and eve on a raft were things to order if you were hungry but a little short on time and money nearly one fourth of all waitresses belonged to unions by the time their movement peaked in the 1940s and 1950s the women had developed a distinctive form of working class feminism simultaneously pushing for equal rights and pay and affirming their need for special protections dorothy sue cobble shows how sexual and racial segregation persisted in wait work but she rejects the idea that this was caused by employers actions or the exclusionary policies of male trade unionists dishing it out contends that the success of waitress unionism was due to several factors waitresses for the most part had nontraditional family backgrounds and most were primary wage earners their close knit occupational community and sex separate union encouraged female assertiveness and a decidedly unromantic view of men and marriage cobble skillfully combines oral interviews and extensive archival records to show how waitresses adopted the basic tenets of male dominated craft unions but rejected other aspects of male union culture the result is a book that will expand our understanding of feminism and unionism by including the gender conscious perspectives of working women

00000000(0000)0000 CIE IGCSE Chinese (0523) Second Language 2012 Paper 1 Analyzes in details 1894 this book originally published in 1987 sets the british political and financial crisis of 1931 in an international context by concentrating on the bankers who were primarily responsible for leading the fight to protect sterling in a world context 1931 marks the point at which the near autonomy which bankers had achieved during the 1920s began to decline and 1931 was thus the last attempt of important groups to return britain to the edwardian era the reasons for their failure to do this are still pertinent in today s international financial climate and this study provides a definitive account of an eciting episode in british politics

The History of Foreign Investment in the United States, 1914–1945 report of the dominion fishery commission on the fisheries of the province of ontario 1893 issued as vol 26 no 7 supplement

Sessional Papers of the Dominion of Canada volume 18 covering part of the final session of the first congress shows jefferson as secretary of state continuing his effective collaboration with james madison in seeking commercial reciprocity with great britain by threatening and almost achieving a retaliatory navigation bill during these few weeks jefferson produced a remarkable series of official reports on gouverneur morris abortive mission to england on the first case of british impressment of american seamen to be noticed officially on the interrelated problems of mediterranean trade and the american captives in algiers and on the french protest against the tonnage acts all of these state papers reflected the consistency of jefferson s aim to bolster the independence of the united states to promote national unity and even as his report on the algerine captives indicates to lay the foundations for american maritime power this volume reveals jefferson s continuing interest in a unified system of weights and measures his effort to create a mint and his concern over executive proceedings in the northwest territory it contains also his suggestions for the president s annual message and his first encounter at the hands of noah webster with federalist ridicule of his interest in science despite his heavy official duties and the confusion into which his household was thrown when 78 crates of books wines and furniture arrived from france jefferson never failed to write his promised weekly letter to his daughters and son in law under the alternating plan which obligated each of them to write only once every three weeks the record of this time of extraordinary pressure shows that jefferson retained his usual equanimity except when after a full two months he failed to receive any scrap of writing from the little family at monticello
