Agatha Christie's debut novel was the first to feature Hercule Poirot, her famously eccentric Belgian detective, a refugee of the Great War. Poirot is settling in England near Styles Court, the country estate of his wealthy benefactress, the elderly Emily Inglethorp. When Emily is poisoned and the authorities are baffled, Poirot puts his prodigious sleuthing skills to work. Suspects are plentiful, including the victim's much younger husband, her resentful stepsons, her longtime hired companion, a young family friend working as a nurse, and a London specialist on poisons who just happens to be visiting the nearby village. All of them have secrets they are desperate to keep, but none can outwit Poirot as he navigates the ingenious red herrings and plot twists that earned Agatha Christie her well-deserved reputation as the Queen of Mystery.

The Art of Deception 2014-01-01

The book is illustrated about author Dame Agatha Mary Clarissa Christie, Lady Mallowan (1890–1976), an English writer. She is known for her 66 detective novels and 14 short story collections, particularly those revolving around her fictional detectives Hercule Poirot and Miss

Agatha Christie also wrote the world's longest running play a murder mystery the Mousetrap and under the pen name Mary Westmacott six romances. In 1971 she was appointed a Dame Commander of the Order of the British Empire (DBE) for her contribution to literature. Christie was born into a wealthy upper middle class family in Torquay, Devon before marrying and starting a family in London. She had served in a Devon hospital during the First World War tending to troops coming back from the trenches. She was initially an unsuccessful writer with six consecutive rejections but this changed when the mysterious affair at Styles featuring Hercule Poirot was published in 1920. During the Second World War she worked as a pharmacy assistant at University College Hospital, London, acquiring a good knowledge of poisons which feature in many of her novels. Guinness World Records lists Christie as the best selling novelist of all time. Her novels have sold roughly 2 billion copies and her estate claims that her works come third in the rankings of the world's most widely published books behind only Shakespeare's works and the Bible. According to Index Translationum she remains the most translated individual author having been translated into at least 103 languages and then there were none. It is Christie's best selling novel with 100 million sales to date making it the world's best selling mystery ever and one of the best selling books of all time. Christie's stage play the Mousetrap holds the world record for longest initial run. It opened at the Ambassador's Theatre in the West End on 25 November 1952 and as of April 2019 is still running after more than 27,000 performances. In 1955 Christie was the first recipient of the Mystery Writers of America's highest honour the Grand Master Award.
