ethnography centers on the culture of everyday life so it is ironic that most scholars who do research on the intimate experiences of ordinary people write their books in a style that those people cannot understand in recent years the ethnographic method has spread from its original home in cultural anthropology to fields such as sociology marketing media studies law criminology education cultural studies history geography and political science yet while more and more students and practitioners are learning how to write ethnographies there is little or no training on how to write ethnographies well from notes to narrative picks up where methodological training leaves off kristen ghodsee an award winning ethnographer addresses common issues that arise in ethnographic writing ghodsee works through sentence level details such as word choice and structure she also tackles bigger picture elements such as how to incorporate theory and ethnographic details how to effectively deploy dialogue and how to avoid distracting elements such as long block quotations and in text citations she includes excerpts and examples from model ethnographies the book concludes with a bibliography of other useful writing guides and nearly one hundred examples of eminently readable ethnographic books in luke acts jesus can be seen to take on the attributes of the davidic shepherd king a representation successfully conveyed through specific narrative devices the presence of the shepherds in the birth narrative can be understood as an indication of this understanding of Jesus. Sarah Harris analyses the multiple ways scholars have viewed the shepherds as characters in the narrative and uses this as an example of how the theme of Jesus shepherd nature is interwoven into the narrative as a whole from the starting point of Jesus human life. Harris moves to later events portrayed in Jesus ministry in which he is seen to enact his message as God's faithful Davidic shepherd in particular the parable of the lost sheep and the Zacchaeus pericope 19:1-10. Harris uses this latter encounter to underline that Jesus may be hailed as a king by the crowds as he enters Jerusalem but he is not simply a king; he is God's Davidic shepherd king as prophesied in Micah 5 and Ezekiel 34 who brings the gospel of peace and salvation to the earth.

Bibliographical guide to the Old French narrative lay listing editions, translations, critical studies, and reviews. This volume presents an analytical bibliography of twenty narrative lays written in French in the late twelfth or early thirteenth centuries: Aristote conseil, Cor desiré, Doon Espervier, Espine Graellent, Guingamor, Haveloc, Ignature, Lecheor, Mantel, Melion, Nabaret, Oiselet, Ombre Trot, Tydorel, and Tyolet. Seeking to provide a complete list of the editions, translations, and substantial studies which have been devoted to them over the years, the choice of the 20 poems corresponds to Donovan's The Breton Lay, the only synthesis so far available on this topic in English. Most references are accompanied by a summary which analyses their contribution to the topic under discussion, covering the item's significance and interest. Items found in works of reference and briefer studies forming part of books or articles are included where appropriate. Each individual bibliography is intended to stand independently with full references given in each case for editions and translation cross-references to important items found in other parts of the volume are given at the end of each bibliography the twenty parts are preceded by a general section which lists contributions to more than one lay professor glyn burges steaches in the department of french at the university of liverpool identity narrative and politics argues that political theory has barely begun to develop a notion of narrative identity instead the book explores the sophisticated ideas which emerge from novels as alternative expressions of political understanding this title uses a broad international selection of twentieth century english language works by writers such as nadine gordimer and thomas pynchon the book considers each novel as a source of political ideas in terms of content structure form and technique the book assumes no prior knowledge of the literature discussed and will be fascinating reading for students of literature politics and cultural studies

we each inhabit two very different worlds simultaneously the real world and the narrative world the real physical world of matter of atoms and molecules and stars and planets and animals wandering around trying to bite and copulate with each other often has very little to do with the narrative world which is made of stories and mental chatter powerful people have long understood that if you control the stories people tell about themselves then you can control their resources and their reality from priests to politicians ceos to the architects of war all have deeply understood the importance of maintaining control of the narrative we have reached a crisis point where the disconnect between narrative and reality is threatening all life on earth the narrative world is getting more and more chimerical while the real world is headed toward disaster due to the military and ecological pressures created by our status quo there are only a few ways this can possibly break with the most obvious being mass scale ecological disaster or nuclear war there is also the possibility that the human species goes the other way and adapts and wakes up to the way narrative has been used to manipulate us into consenting to our own extinction throughout recorded history all around the globe wise humans have been attesting that it is possible to transcend our delusion rooted conditioning and come to a lucid perception of the narrative world and reality there are many names for this lucid perception but the one that caught on most widely is enlightenment we all have this potential within us it has been gestating in us for many millennia as we approach our adaptation or extinction juncture we are very close indeed to learning if that potential will awaken in us or not this book rests on the meniscus of that possibility
