discover how art can heal inspire and bring solace and more meaning to your life as a trained calligrapher artist and designer sarah zoutewelle morris started out building her career on the art as a product route gradually she came to realize that art is not just products or a vocation but that it is also intimately connected with healing transformation and community building the process of deep and far reaching change in herself was influenced by artists she was inspired by art like friendship has an intrinsic worth without having to be a means to an end like fame or money viewing art as a link to the natural wild and sacred realms sarah s work shifted to seeing art in relationship to others the world and generosity sarah contends that it isn t the task of the artist to fit into the market ideology but rather to bring artistic values beauty soaring imagination and fearless skill into that arena this beautifully illustrated book maps how the arts are a powerful force and how artists are stepping outside the boundaries of the studio untethered by the emphasis on money to re awaken their original function as the intermediary between sacred realms and the newly emerging everyday world art is once again fulfilling its visionary role in creation and renewal offering fresh images to light up our imagination and alternatives to how to live on our planet art can transform you it can awaken your generous spirit the art of emergency charts the maneuvers of art through conflict zones across the african continent advancing diverse models for artistic and humanitarian alliance the volume urges conscientious deliberation on the role of aesthetics in crisis through intellectual engagement artistic innovation and administrative policy across africa artists increasingly turn to ngo sponsorship in pursuit of greater influence and funding while simultaneously ngos both international and local commission arts projects to buttress their interventions and achieve greater reach and marketability the key values of artistic expression thus become healing and sensitization measured in turn by impact and effectiveness such rubrics obscure the aesthetic complexities of the artworks and the power dynamics that inform their production clashes arise as foreign ngos import foreign aesthetic models and preconceptions about their efficacy alongside foreign interpretations of politics medicine psychology trauma memorialization and so on meanwhile each community embraces its own aesthetic precedents often at odds with the intentions of humanitarian agencies the arts are a sphere in which different worldviews enter into conflict and conversation to tackle the consequences of aid agency arts deployment volume editors samuel mark anderson and chérie rivers ndaliko assemble ten case studies from across the african continent employing multiple media including music sculpture photography drama storytelling ritual and protest marches organized under three widespread yet under analyzed objectives for arts in emergency demonstration distribution and remediation each case offers a different disciplinary and methodological perspective on a common complication in ngo sponsored creativity by shifting the discourse on arts activism away from fixations on message and toward diverse investigations of aesthetics and power negotiations the art of emergency brings into focus the conscious and unconscious configurations of humanitarian activism the social lives it attempts to engage and the often fraught interactions between the two in the mid 1950s c p snow began his campaign against the two cultures the debilitating divide as he saw it between traditional literary intellectual culture and the culture of the sciences urging in its place a third culture which would draw upon and integrate the resources of disciplines spanning the natural and social sciences the arts and the humanities murray smith argues that with the ever increasing influence of evolutionary theory and neuroscience and the pervasive presence of digital technologies snow's challenge is more relevant than ever working out how the scientific and everyday images of the world hang together is no simple matter in film art and the third culture smith explores this question in relation to the art technology and science of film in particular and to the world of the arts and aesthetic activity more generally in the first part of his book smith explores the general strategies and principles necessary to build a third cultural or naturalized approach to film and art one that roots itself in an appreciation of scientific knowledge and method smith then goes on to focus on the role of emotion in film and the other arts as an extended experiment in the third cultural integration of ideas on emotion spanning the arts humanities and sciences while acknowledging that not all of the questions we ask are scientific in nature smith contends that we cannot disregard the insights wrought by taking a naturalized approach to the aesthetics of film and the other arts
