the popularity and globalization of sport have led to an ever increasing migration of black athletes from the global south to the united states and western europe while the hegemonic ideology surrounding sport is that it brings diverse people together and ameliorates social divisions sociologists of sport have shown this to be a gross simplification instead sport and its narratives often reinforce and re create stereotypes and social boundaries especially regarding race and the prowess and the position of the black athlete because sport is a contested terrain for maintaining and challenging racial norms and boundaries the black athlete has always impacted popular white perceptions of blackness in a global manner the black migrant athlete analyzes the construction of race in western societies through a study of the black african migrant athlete munene franjo mwaniki presents ten black african migrant athletes as a conceptual starting point to interrogate the nuances of white supremacy and of the migrant and immigrant experience with a global perspective by using celebrity athletes such as hakeem olajuwon dikembe mutombo and catherine ndereba as entry points into a global discourse mwaniki explores how these athletes are wrapped in social and cultural meanings by predominately white owned and dominated media organizations
