exploring the nature of how our experience of what we call self emerges across the lifespan both a personal and general meditation on identity and belonging daniel j siegel s book combines personal reflections with scientific discussions of how the mind brain and our relationships shape who we are weaving the internal and external the subjective and objective intraconnected reveals how our culture may give us a message of separation as a solo isolated self but a wider perspective unveils that who we are may be something more broader than the brain bigger even than the body and fundamental to social systems and the natural world our body based self the origin of a me is not only connected to others but connected within our relational worlds themselves a we forming the essence of how we belong and our identity if the pandemic has taught us nothing else it has taught us that we are all connected intraconnected discusses that bond as well as other realities of our intraconnected lives
