of the simple joys of raising farm animals or catching fish in a local river however her childhood is scarred by the primitive conditions her family s everyday struggle to obtain food and the horror of witnessing relatives being tortured on a stage during public denouncing meetings as the communists take control of china in 1949 we follow the harrowing experiences of chan zhou s great grandparents grandparents father and mother during the 1950s 60s and 70s when landlords business owners artists and scholars were branded as bad elements and class enemies as a teenager in the 1970s while selling vegetables on the black market chan zhou is accused of being a little capitalist trader the death of mao ultimately saves chan zhou from being sent to a detention center and her family s destiny is forever altered by deng xiaoping s reform that allows her family to reunite in hong kong and subsequently emigrate to the united states a blend of wild swans and the red scarf girl flowing with the pearl river is a vividly accurate portrayal of one family s painful experiences during communism and the cultural revolution in china and their eventual escape to freedom the magazine that personal and professional lives the magazine that helps career moms balance their personal and professional lives a guide to creating a home computer network covers such topics as implementing network addressing configuring network adapters and routers sharing music and photos automating household appliances and troubleshooting managing a major remodel of your home involves learning various aspects of a construction project permitting hiring contractors clarifying what you really mean and want managing a budget overseeing quality avoiding regrets doing what s right for yourself and standing up for yourself it s a big job the learning curve is high and often we homeowners don t get to apply the skills we learned again in this book the stories of a couple going through this learning curve is told through the lens of a novice just like a conversation with a homeowner over a cup of tea what they thought they wanted a brand new house in modern minimalist style with solar panels and recycled materials is very different than what they ended up with remodel of a 90 year old house in the classic arts and crafts style to meet the stringent international building standard called passive house what caused this shift how did they choose the contractor how did they navigate out of overwhelm of green building choices how did they manage the relationships what would they do differently was it worth it this book chronicles the journey by a couple from choosing the location through living in the house after the renovation completion it wasn t all about finding smart people and following expert guidance when expert opinions diverged and they got stuck in analysis paralysis they had to trust their judgment and chose what they felt was right for them after all they ll be living in the house for years after the experts are gone reviews for midori haus chie kawahara is a storyteller her book midori haus tells a compelling story in a conversational style about a couple who wanted to remodel an older home that would use as little energy as possible and was comfortable and healthy to live in anyone who has an interest in green building doing right for oneself and the planet will find a friend in this book jim gunshinan editor home energy magazine midori haus serves as a journey of adapting learning greening nurturing and caring for an old house by renewing the house to address current and future environmental challenges the narrative is delightfully educational the design process of achieving the passive house standard will be better understood through these stories and conversations alison g kwok ph d ia cphc university of oregon the international passive house standard has gained a deserved reputation as the fastest growing building energy efficiency standard in the world unsurprisingly publications about it have mostly been by and for industry professionals midori haus represents an alternative introducing readers to passive house through the eyes of a homeowner undertaking a remodeling project chie kawahara takes readers along on her journey of discovery and remodeling triumph she makes the process understandable and accessible and readers are given practical tools they can use on their own passive house projects there s nothing like a good case study told by the people involved to bring abstract concepts to life midori haus doesn t disappoint elrond burrell architect cphd blogger in this delightful book chie kawahara describes the process she and her husband went through to purchase a 1920s bungalow and turn it into a state of the art healthy green passive house this account of their experiences is highly instructional for anyone considering buying and renovating a house and it s a wonderful read alex wilson founder
