in the late 1920s reverend a w nix 1880 1949 an african american baptist minister born in texas made fifty four commercial recordings of his sermons on phonographs in chicago on these recordings nix presented vocal traditions and styles long associated with the southern rural black church as he preached about self help racial uplift thrift and christian values as southerners like nix fled into cities in the north to escape the rampant racism in the south they contested whether or not african american vocal styles of singing and preaching that had emerged during the slavery era were appropriate for uplifting the race specific vocal characteristics like those on nix s recordings were linked to the image of the old negro by many african american leaders who favored adopting europeanized vocal characteristics and musical repertoires into african american churches in order to uplift the modern new negro citizen through interviews with family members musical analyses of the sounds on nix s recordings and examination of historical documents and relevant scholarship terri brinegar argues that the development of the phonograph in the 1920s afforded preachers like nix the opportunity to present traditional black vocal styles of the southern black church as modern black voices these vocal styles also influenced musical styles the moaning voice used by nix and other ministers was a direct connection to the blues moan employed by many blues singers including blind willie blind lemon and ma rainey both reverend a w nix and his brother w m nix were an influence on the father of gospel music thomas a dorsey the success of nix s recorded sermons demonstrates the enduring values african americans placed on traditional vocal practices
