excerpt from america s great men and their deeds american heroes and heroism interest is the first word in modern psychology the child will learn faster and better when he is interested when his mind is thoroughly alive and intensely active moreover when he is kept in pleasurable interest his development is more normal and healthy nowhere is this principle more applicable or the results more manifest than in the reading classes give the children dry and uninteresting historical facts or didactic rules of no interest to them and quite foreign to their undeveloped natures and you have given them a soporific potion which will prove effectual in retarding their advancement on the other hand give them reading lessons which relate in simple language adventures narrow escapes thrilling incidents in history and travel where bold and high toned courage is manifested and three distinct and important things will be accomplished first their thorough interest in the reading exercise will be secured secondly a healthy love for history will be cultivated and thirdly a strong moral sentiment will be stimulated perhaps no set of reading lessons will do more in all three of these directions than such entertaining incidents in history as show real bravery and high principled heroism one advantage from a book of this sort is found in the ethical lessons conveyed by the incidents related it is in reality a practical book of morals the best moral teaching is by example and the stories here told impart so clearly lessons in kindness in honesty in true courage in real benevolence that the words haec fabula docet are in no way needed children always and everywhere respect heroism and love the hero but it is important to distinguish between brute bravery and real moral courage the incidents of heroism given in this book are arranged in a progressive or ascending order we have undertaken to discourse here for a little on great men their manner of appearance in our world s business how they have shaped themselves in the world s history what ideas men formed of them what work they did on heroes namely and on their reception and performance what i call hero worship and the heroic in human affairs too evidently this is a large topic deserving quite other treatment than we can expect to give it at present a large topic indeed an illimitable one wide as universal history itself for as i take it universal history the history of what man has accomplished in this world is at bottom the history of the great men who have worked here they were the leaders of men these great ones the modellers patterns and in a wide sense creators of whatsoever the general mass of men contrived to do or to attain all things that we see standing accomplished in the world are properly the outer material result the practical realization and embodiment of thoughts that dwelt in the great men sent into the world the soul of the whole world s history it may justly be considered were the history of these too clearly it is a topic widely regarded as the father of american psychology william james is by any measure a mammoth presence on the stage of pragmatist philosophy but despite his indisputable influence on philosophical thinkers of all genders men remain the movers and shakers in the jamesian universe while women exist primarily to support their endeavors and serve their needs how could the philosophy of william james a man devoted to victorian ideals be used to support feminism feminist interpretations of william james lays out the elements of james s philosophy that are particularly problematic for feminism offers a novel feminist approach to james s ethical philosophy and takes up epistemic contestations in and with james s pragmatism the results are surprising in short james s philosophy can prove useful for feminist efforts to challenge sexism and male privilege in spite of james himself in this latest installment of the re reading the canon series contributors appeal to william james s controversial texts not simply as an exercise in feminist critique but in the service of feminism along with the editors the contributors are jeremy carrette lorraine code megan craig susan dieleman jacob l goodson maurice hamington erin mckenna josé medina and charlene haddock seigfried between 1945 and 1965 the catastrophe of war and the social and political changes it brought in its wake had a major impact on the construction of the soviet masculine ideal drawing upon a wide range of visual material the fate of the new man traces the dramatic changes in the representation of the soviet man in the postwar period it focuses on the two identities that came to dominate such depictions in the two decades after the end of the war the soviet man s previous role as a soldier and his new role in the home once the war was over in this compelling study claire mccallum focuses on the reconceptualization of military heroism after the war the representation of contentious subjects such as the war damaged body and bereavement and postwar changes to the depiction of the soviet man as father mccallum shows that it was the second world war rather than the process of de stalinization that had the greatest impact on the masculine ideal proving that even under the constraints of socialist realism the physical and emotional devastation caused by the war was too great to go unacknowledged the fate of the new man makes an important contribution to soviet masculinity studies mccallum s research also contributes to broader debates surrounding the impact of stalin s death on soviet society and on the nature of the subsequent thaw as well as to those concerning the relationship between soviet culture and the realities of soviet life this fascinating study will appeal to scholars and students of soviet history masculinity studies and visual culture studies

The Golden Rule

one comfort is that great men taken up in any way are profitable company we cannot look however imperfectly upon a great man without gaining something by him he is the living light fountain which it is good and pleasant to be near the light which enlightens which has enlightened the darkness of the world and this not as a kindled lamp only but rather as a natural luminary shining by the gift of heaven a flowing light fountain as i say of native original insight of manhood and heroic nobleness in whose radiance all souls feel that it is well with them on any terms whatsoever you will not grudge to wander in such neighborhood for a while these six classes of heroes chosen out of widely distant countries and epochs and in mere external figure differing altogether ought if we look faithfully at them to illustrate several things for us could we see them well we should get some glimpses into the very marrow of the world s history how happy could i but in any measure in such times as these make manifest to you the meanings of heroism the divine relation for i may well call it such which in all times unites a great man to other men and thus as it were not exhaust my subject but so much as break ground on it at all events i must make the attempt it is well said in every sense that a man s religion is the chief fact with regard to him a man s or a nation of men s by religion i do not mean here the church creed which he professes the articles of faith which he will sign and in words or otherwise assert not this wholly in many cases not this at all we see men of all kinds of professed creeds attain to almost all degrees of worth or worthlessness under each or any of them this is not what i call religion this profession and assertion which is often only a profession and assertion from the outworks of the man from the mere argumentative region of him if even so deep as that but the thing a man does practically believe and this is often enough without asserting it even to himself much less to others the thing a man does practically lay to heart and know for certain concerning his vital relations to this mysterious universe and his duty and destiny there that is childrens japanese lisa can read childrens english japanese picture bilingual edition japanese edition in all cases the primary thing for him and creatively determines all the rest that is his religion or it may be his mere scepticism and no religion the manner it is in which he feels himself to be spiritually related to the unseen world or no world and i say if you tell me what that is you tell me to a very great extent what the man is what the kind of things he will do is of a man or of a nation we inquire therefore first of all what religion they had was it heathenism plurality of gods mere sensuous representation of this mystery of life and for chief recognized element therein physical force was it christianism faith in an invisible not as real only but as the only reality time through every meanest moment of it resting on eternity pagan empire of force displaced by a nobler supremacy that of holiness was it scepticism uncertainty and inquiry whether there was an unseen world any mystery of life except a mad one doubt as to all this or perhaps unbelief and flat denial answering of this question is giving us the soul of the history of the man or nation the thoughts they had were the parents of the actions they did their feelings were parents of their thoughts it was the unseen and spiritual in them that determined the outward and actual their religion as i say was the great fact about them in these discourses limited as we are it will be good to direct our survey chiefly to that religious phasis of the matter
