~~laura is the story of one woman's journey from~~ heartbreak to healing told through a series of letters this unique epistolary offers insight into coming out of the closet losing your virginity and learning how to genuinely grieve in the face of loss people don't have to die to leave us and when two women madly in love break apart the leaving is all too real in this inspiringly raw work grief shows its true nature that of a healer how much pain have you shoved down into the depths of your broken heart perhaps the light needed for your darkness lies between the lines of one brave woman's willingness to be exposed letters to laura started as a single letter telling how god saved a life but the letters continued becoming a series of stories of survival that amazed even the author cal has survived a garage door blowing off the wall near electrocution wild rides as a hitchhiker escape from being run down in traffic an encounter with a wild badger and more more than he had realized until writing these letters to laura cal shares his candid conversations with a god who gets involved he gets mad at god apologizes asks favors and confides expecting a response yet finding the unexpected each letter is one or more stories of deliverance humiliation success wonder sobering reality cal is honest as a bedella casa reconstructs what really happened volume guida monstrosity might with an abler and more delicate treatment have lent itself to the creation of an attractive narrative conceptions equally impossible and contrary to the laws of nature have been productive of readable stories laura and eveline are hermaphrodites capable of enjoyment both active and passive and they recount the incidents of their weddings which take place simultaneously after these details as disgusting as they are absurd follows the description of an orgie still more filthy and impossible enacted by numerous ladies and gentlemen at a london club in honour of the said nuptials the work which is from the pen of its publisher is mainly remarkable for its gross obscenity both in idea and language and possesses no literary merit whatever there is great choice in bells of the same another will be soft and sweet and deep but not resonant and the sound will npt travel far a dollar a pound is the price or was the price of miss ware s it will take at least a fifty better ask how far such a bell carries sound ours should be heard three miles if possible miss ware calculated that a twenty five pound bell would be heard a mile and a half our children come from five and six miles but i think no bell could be heard so far i suppose that the wheel for ringing it comes with it that and a rope would be necessary our we should want a rope to go through the floor a chance to send the bell by mr winsor s 1499 presents feminist issues in a predominantly male venue the humanist autobiography in the form of personal letters cereta s works circulated widely in italy during the early modern era but her complete letters have never before been published in english in her public lectures and essays cereta explores the history of women s contributions to the intellectual and political life of europe she argues against the slavery of women in marriage and for the rights of women to higher education the same issues that have occupied feminist thinkers of later centuries yet these letters also furnish a detailed portrait of an early modern woman s private experience for cereta addressed many letters to a close circle of family and friends discussing highly personal concerns such as her difficult relationships with her mother and her husband taken together these letters are a testament both to an individual woman and to enduring feminist concerns of laura fair sex murder and insanity troubridge alliance are endless yet fascinating laura troubridge s early journals dating from 1873 up to her engagement to adrian hope in 1884 have already been published as life amongst the troubridges journals of a young victorian 1873 1884 0953474607 and now these letters between adrian and laura during their long engagement from 2 august 1884 to exactly four years later 2 august 1888 continue the story up to their marriage laura collected their engagement letters and arranged them in date order to form a continuous running dialogue they used to think of their letters as being the next best thing to talking face to face and the daily posts being considerably faster and more frequent than those of today their answers or comments on exchanges of news are near enough to the original questions to make this conversational aspect ring true their love letters over this engagement period of four years are equal in length to four average novels and massive cuts were necessary to arrive at a readable package this is a new release of the original 1912 edition illustrated 1912 edition excerpt school house with an eight day clock her bell is smaller than mine must be for she calls only one plantation and we five or six to school they say it is exquisite in tone there is great choice in bells of the same size and apparent quality one will ring clearly and be heard at a great distance while another will be soft and sweet and deep but not resonant and the sound will npt travel far a dollar a pound is the price or was the price of miss ware s it will take at least a fifty pound bell and may take a larger one you had better ask how far such a bell carries sound ours should be heard three miles if possible miss ware calculated that a twenty five pound bell would be heard a mile and a half our children come from five and six miles but i think no bell could be heard so far i suppose that the wheel for ringing it comes with it that and a rope would be necessary our building is one story high and raised on piles we should want a rope to go through the floor and be pulled from beneath i think you can get a chance to send the bell by mr winsor s schooners which are coming often for cotton i had rather have freight paid on it than have it come by mr philbrick s favor if it cannot come by schooner i think the philadelphia committee would get the new york committee to forward it another great crowd of negroes has come from the archives of the hope troubridge alliance are endless yet fascinating laura troubridge s early journals dating from 1873 up to her engagement to adrian hope in 1884 have already been published as life amongst the troubridges journals of a young victorian 1873 1884

adrian and laura during their long engagement
from 2 august 1884 to exactly four years later
marriage laura collected their engagement
