he was born om but something transformed him to ohm yes he considered himself as a unit of resistance against ignorance searching for the purpose of life he starts learning ancient indian scriptures eventually he does understand the books getting closer to the literature but moves away from the essence of the almighty his humanist attitude takes him to places and often in life threatening situations once into an enemy country followed by intriguing experiences

Life in Shackles

if we analyze the history of ancient india mughal era and british rule we may find tremendous changes in the society moreover in the conditions of women in the society as the period of vedic era passed by the culture of gurukul and debate vanished completely while studying the british rule we find that there were so many malpractices in the society either in the name of religion or considering the safety of women it is very difficult to find out the exact starting point of such malpractices and to reach the first victim but it is believed that all this happened due to mughal and british atrocities on indians which gave birth to social insecurity particularly of a woman some of these malpractices like burqa veil western culture etc were introduced in this country with the entry of invaders which are still not fit in these climatic conditions here in india it was because of safety concerns that woman became victim of illiteracy again because of safety and dowry concern a girl is being killed during pregnancy and yet again because of such a poignant condition of women the society is lacking on moral and ethics as the first teacher of a child the mother is barred to participate in progression of the civilization apart from these there are so many issues like eve teasing molestation kidnapping etc which she faces daily at different places in different situations the book life in shackles does not only feature the ordeal of a woman but is about the fact that she needs some freedom some liberty some support to continue her role as the foundation stone of civilization she is not just made for the purpose of use and throw she needs self esteem and self consciousness too i hope that the readers will find the stories in line with this introduction and would think seriously on the issues listed in the book in various stories however the progressive women has already started their movement against these social evils like illiteracy unemployment gender inequality burqa veil halala polygamy triple divorce etc it s our duty to participate in the revolution of positive change for the betterment of the society

THE LOST CHILDHOOD (HUMAN RIGHTS OF SOCIALLY DEPRIVED)

this book is an experiment in understanding ground realities and descriptions of contemporary social problems current debates about social and economic human rights emphasize vital economically driven needs for food shelter health care and basic education while ignoring equally fundamental needs for socialization interpersonal caring and meaningful associations this gives a distorted picture of social and economic human rights and allows the provision of economic needs to be promoted without due attention to the social needs that accompany them similarly debates about civil and political human rights have focused on the rights against torture and cruel inhumane or degrading treatment while giving little or no attention to the intersection between these exclusions social exclusion is a socially constructed concept and can depend on an idea of what is considered normal the concept of social exclusion is contested in that it is often difficult to objectively identify who is socially excluded as it is a matter of the criteria adopted and the judgments used the state of jharkhand is one of the migrating states especially for child laborers their labor is unaccountable they usually suffer from anemia and reproductive infections one of the main obstacles to tribal development is superstitious beliefs and practices they think that the diseases famines water scarcities weak crops the spread of epidemics and premature death etc befall on them only when the evil spirits are angry thus the socio economic condition of the tribal is very poor caused of many factors i e undulating topography less cultivable land with no irrigation facilities lack of govt infrastructure facilities and superstitious beliefs etc migration and child trafficking must be prevented through the collaborative action of influential members of society and community leaders police personnel media people ngos working in the field and individuals who are in a professional capacity can influence state legislation to successfully combat trafficking education with professional technical skills education for income generation activities is needed migration and child trafficking must be prevented through the collaborative action of influential members of society and community leaders police personnel media people ngos working in the field and individuals who are in a professional capacity can influence state legislation to successfully combat trafficking education with professional technical skills education for income generation

this volume maps the breadth and domain of genre literature in india across seven languages tamil urdu bangla hindi odia marathi and english and nine genres for the first time over the last few decades detective crime fiction and especially science fiction fantasy have slowly made their way into university curricula and consideration by literary critics in india and the west however there has been no substantial study of genre fiction in the indian languages least of all from a comparative perspective this volume with contributions from leading national and international scholars addresses this lacuna in critical scholarship and provides an overview of diverse genre fictions using methods from literary analysis book history and indian aesthetic theories the volume throws light on the variety of contexts in which genre literature is read activated and used from political debates surrounding national and regional identities to caste and class conflicts it shows that indian genre fiction including pulp fiction comics and graphic novels transmutes across languages time periods in translation and through publication processes while the book focuses on contemporary postcolonial genre literature production it also draws connections to individual centuries long literary traditions of genre literature in the indian subcontinent further it traces contested hierarchies within these languages as well as current trends in genre fiction criticism lucid and comprehensive this book will be of great interest to academics students practitioners literary critics and historians in the fields of postcolonialism genre studies global genre fiction media and popular culture south asian literature indian literature detective fiction science fiction romance crime fiction horror mythology graphic novels comparative literature and south asian studies it will also appeal to the informed general reader industry 5.0 is the successor of the industry 4.0 concept which employed high technology in the manufacturing industry industry 5.0 is a new idea that adds a human touch to the work of robots and smart machines the basic idea of humans and machines working together is to increase efficiency and effectivity like the internet of things lot it aims to merge the increasing cognitive computing abilities of the robots with the intelligence and resourcefulness of the humans the progress of industry 5.0 is inevitable as the technology grows more each day we find ways to make our work simpler the development of such technologies to make the world more efficient requires its manufacturers i.e humans who collaborate with these machines and technologies humans are indispensable resources as what a machine can do is limited and with all these efficiencies we have come so far there is no path leading us back with adoption of new concepts comes a paradigm shift as development continues and we move from industry 4.0 which speaks of the future of production its primary purpose continues to be achieving seamless connectivity between machines and its systems for higher productivity and efficiencies across the value chain overall it focuses mainly on traditional financial and operational kpis whereas industry 5.0 gives a human touch to the concept of 4.0 keeping in mind the well being of the environment and society making the machines and humans work together on a path of green future industry 5.0 has the balance of both humans and technologies which benefits the ecosystem with discovery of new energy sources and renewable resources helping in a sustainable working environment it can be used to reduce harmful residue caused due to manufacturing processes and recycle rare materials taking this theme the multidisciplinary congress on industry 5.0 and paradigm shift emerging challenges will highlight research challenges and open issues that should be further developed to realize industry 5.0
